NEW INDUSTRY IN CARRIER MILLS—The Violetta Manufacturing Company, formerly located in Chicago, has moved part of its equipment to the new location—the O'Keefe building on Route 45, Carrier Mills. The move was started over the long Labor Day weekend and nine machines are now in place. Mozes Coster, who handles sales for the firm, at extreme right, explains operation of one of the machines to Clyde O'Keefe, Mayor Freeman O'Keefe and Freeman Dale Pankey, partially hidden, president of the Carrier Mills Lions club. At left is Miss Betty Schriker, daughter of the owners; Mrs. Coster and Mrs. Connie Beard. Mrs. Coster is designer and manager and will train the working force. Mrs. Beard, who has been with the firm for almost two years, is inspector and Betty, who can operate the machines, will be office manager and secretary when the firm is in full production. The machine shown is a double needle machine, used for binding and edging garments. At present the firm manufactures brassieres, corsets, girdles and garter belts, but plans are to expand into the field of dresses, skirts and blouses. Applications for employment will be accepted Friday and only a few operators will be used at the beginning, with two to be added each week and trained by Mrs. Coster. More machines and other equipment will be moved in the near future. Mr. Coster stated. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Flaming Jet Hits Homes

Two Destroyed in St. Louis Suburb; Pilot Killed; 7 Residents Escape

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A flaming jet fighter plane plunged into a residential district late Tuesday, killing the pilot and destroying two homes. Seven residents of the fire-gutted homes escaped death only by their providential absence when the plane crashed into suburban Berkeley near the Lambert-St. Louis Airport.

Navy Lt. John R. Renshaw, 28, a test pilot was killed. Authorities planned an exhaustive examination of the wreckage today in an effort to determine the cause of the engine failure.

Renshaw, a Centerville, Md., resident who came here from the naval air test center at Patuxent River, Md., to pick up and return a McDonnell Aircraft Corp. Demon F3H jet, barely got off the ground before fire started shooting out of his plane.

The ship wavered, according to witnesses, before it reached an altitude of 500 feet. Then it started down as though out of control. It struck the street in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meyer in Bel Ridge after shearing off the top of a tree. Then it bounced into the Meyer house, continuing into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider and their three children.

Harry Fields, who was watching television across the street, looked out the window when he heard the shrill characteristic whistle of an approaching jet.

"It came out of the sky like a bolt of lightning," Fields said, "and it was just as destructive. Both those frame houses were engulfed by flames seconds after it hit."

By the time fire departments arrived, the Meyer and Schneider homes were smoking rubble. Fire

Keneipp, Allen Purchase Grocery On Sloan Street

Ed Keneipp and Kenneth Allen have purchased the grocery store at 628 West Sloan street from Mr. and Mrs. Winston Gidcomb and will operate it as the Sloan Street Market. It is in the building owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rose. The store is open for business although all work of arranging shelves, refrigeration boxes has not been completed. A formal opening will be held at a later date. The interior already has been redecorated and stock rearranged. It will be a U. S. C. store.

Mr. Keneipp has operated a grocery store for 18 years at 1001 South Land street and has closed this business. Mr. Allen formerly was a partner in Thompson and Allen, operators of a grocery, restaurant and service station on Route 13 at the Carrier Mills blacktop road west of Harrisburg.

Vandals Deface New Home

Vandals early last night defaced the brand new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bellamy at the extreme south end of Webster street.

Chief of Police Ross said the defacing job of the structure, not yet moved into, although some of the furniture already is there, occurred between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Using red shoe polish, the words "I Will Kill" were printed on the white living room walls. In another room was printed "I Will Kill Tonight." A fire had been built near the house on a concrete patio. Red stains splashed walls all over the place and the new wooden kitchen cabinets.

Crosses were marked on lamp shades, four or five light bulbs had been smashed, dirt was brought in and scattered and some pieces of furniture were scratched.

Police worked last night and again today in an effort to find out who went in the house, apparently small persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy are new in Harrisburg. He is employed at Mac's Goodyear store at Poplar and Jackson. She is a new member of the Harrisburg Township high school faculty.

B. R. Gholson of Galatia RFD Is New Saline County ASC Office Manager

B. R. Gholson, RFD 3, Galatia, is the new manager of the Saline county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, located in the city hall, Harrisburg.

Mr. Gholson is a native of Saline county, being born in Rector township near Gholson Grove church, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gholson. He has lived on a farm all his life and is interested in the problems of the farmer. "I can sympathize with the problems of the farmer and will be working at all times to help the farmers," Mr. Gholson declared in speaking of the new job he is undertaking.

Although active as a farmer, Mr. Gholson also has taught school and retired from the profession with twenty years of teaching with the close of the 1956-57 term.

He attended the Broughton schools through the first three years of high school, then was graduated from the Eldorado Township high school with the class of 1930. He attended both Union college, Jackson, Tenn., and Southern Illinois University. He taught in schools in Saline, White and Hamilton counties.

The change in management of the ASC office was effective Tuesday, Sept. 3, with Mr. Gholson succeeding Edgar Thompson, who has retired.

Mr. Gholson is married, his wife being the former Miss Mabel Hargrave, and they have two sons. One son, Franklin, is serving with the U. S. Air Force in France and James Richard, 11 years of age, is at home. Mrs. Gholson is a teacher in the Broughton grade school.

The new ASC office manager, who trained for the job by attending a government school at Anna during the summer, is a brother of Joe Gholson, former teacher in the Carrier Mills high school, now pastor of the Cottage Grove Baptist church near Alton. He has four sisters, Mrs. Roy (Lettie) Watson, Mrs. Robert (Easter) Driskell, Mrs. Lee (Ethel) Porter and Miss Annis Gholson, all of Eldorado.

A field supervisor met with Mr. Gholson and members of the Saline county ASC board of directors Tuesday to direct the change in management. ASC directors are Herman Driskell, Mountain township, chairman; M. L. Ragsdale, Cottage township; Gobel Dutton, Harrisburg township.

Carbondale Pilot Hurt in Japan in Marine Plane Crash

TOKYO (UP)—The pilot of a U. S. Marine AD6 Skyraider which crashed and burned on takeoff at Tokyo International Airport last week was identified today as 1st Lt. Dan F. Smith, 23, Carbondale, Ill.

Authorities of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, of which Smith is a member, said the officer was in the Tokyo Army hospital recovering from first and second degree burns on his face and legs. He also suffered less severe burns on his hands, it was reported. His condition was described as good.

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Smith, Carbondale. Marine authorities said an investigation is under way to determine the cause of the accident.

Bagwill Tells Kiwanis of Early Labor Problems

Some of the problems and conditions faced by labor in the early days of coal mining were discussed before members of the Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple by George Bagwill. Mr. Bagwill, who is celebrating his 87th birthday today, told of the terrible conditions in the homes of coal miners in his period of 1895 to 1897 and compared them with conditions in the miners' homes of today.

"The right to strike was the only weapon the miners had in the early days to bring about the transformation of conditions which are found today," he said.

However, Mr. Bagwill stated, graft and corruption are found in the labor organizations today and he added he could not see an end to it all.

"The problem is something to think about," Mr. Bagwill stated. He stated he doubts one big union, which has been advocated, would be the answer to corruption. A big union, he said, would be powerful enough to sway government and there would be no telling how the individual member would fare under such an organization.

Mr. Bagwill discussed the early organization of the miners' union. The first organization, the old Knights of Labor, he said, was not strong enough to bring about improvement in working conditions and it is extinct today.

In 1894 the coal miners were called to a mass meeting at Murphysboro and a national suspension of work was called to improve wages and working conditions. The strike failed, he said, and under working conditions of that period the miner only existed—he was not living.

Sam Cape was program chairman for last night's meeting and introduced the speaker in the club's observance of Labor Day. Guest at last night's meeting was Reginald Riegel, guest of Dawan Fritte.

City to Furnish Water to Buena Vista Residents

Agreement Voted By Council and Is Signed by Mayor

An agreement has been reached for the furnishing of water from the Harrisburg water system to residents in the Buena Vista area, west of Harrisburg.

At the regular meeting of the Harrisburg City Council, held Tuesday afternoon, all members voted in favor of the agreement and it was signed by Mayor Claude Gibbons. Raymond Pickford represented the Buena Vista group.

The agreement is similar to the one signed recently between the City of Harrisburg and water users in Dorris Heights.

Harrisburg will furnish pipe for the extension of the water service. It is estimated the water main will be extended a distance of one mile.

Cost of installing the water main and all other expense will be handled by the residents connecting to the line. They have agreed to purchase meters, furnish all materials necessary for the individual hookups and maintain the line, under supervision of city water department officials.

The council also passed an ordinance for the furnishing of water to three areas outside the corporate limits of Harrisburg—Dorris Heights, Buena Vista and Muddy. However, an agreement between Harrisburg and Muddy has not been signed.

In other action the council approved the monthly bills and approved the request for street lights to be installed at three locations—two in the west section of Harrisburg and one at the extreme end of East Dayton street.

104th Annual Meeting of Ohio Ass'n of General Baptists Thursday, Friday, Saturday

The 104th annual meeting of the Ohio Association of General Baptists will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 4, 5 and 6, at Little Chapel church five miles north of Raleigh. The Rev. Wilson Rister will be host pastor. The Rev. Nomas Summers of Harrisburg is moderator of the association and the Rev. James H. Rose of Elizabethtown is clerk.

Twenty-five churches are represented in the association which includes about 1,500 members. Places will be provided for delegates from distance and a tent will handle the overflow crowd at the new Little Chapel church.

There will be morning and afternoon business sessions and an evening worship session. Preaching sessions also will follow the morning and afternoon meetings. An election of officers will be held Thursday.

Rejected by Zorin

Russia Turns Down Western Package Deal on Disarmament

LONDON (UP)—Russia turned down the Western package deal on disarmament for a second time today, bringing the arms parley close to a breakdown.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin met the West's demand for a final answer to its latest arms proposal with a contemptuous declaration that it contains "nothing new and is unacceptable."

Zorin said the Soviet Union demands unconditional and immediate suspension of further nuclear tests divorced from any other arms-cutting measures which could only lead to "a maze of difficult problems."

When delegates Harold Stassen of the United States, Allan Noble of Britain and David Ritchie of Canada demanded to know if this was the final Soviet answer, Zorin responded that there was nothing new in the plan and said the Soviet government's declaration of Aug. 27 was the answer.

On that date, Zorin rejected the West's "open skies" inspection and two-year nuclear tests suspension proposals in a bitter, 90-minute speech that followed by less than 24 hours a Soviet boast that it had successfully tested an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Thus the month-old conference talks here appeared on the verge of a breakdown, but the delegates agreed to meet again Thursday for further talks.

The West has laid its disarmament cards on the table, submitting an 11-point "first step" disarmament proposal. It called for air and ground inspection to guard against surprise attack, a two-year suspension of nuclear tests tied to a ban on the production of fissionable materials, and a start toward the reduction of conventional armaments and armed forces.

The Western proposal was put forward at last Thursday's session.

Geological Survey Engineers Set Up Office Here

Engineers from the U. S. Geological Survey, Department of Interior, are in this area getting field information to complete topographical contour maps in four counties. Three engineers with seven local helpers are working in Saline, Gallatin, Hardin and Pope counties from a line running from Harrisburg to Shawneetown and south to the Ohio river.

The engineers are Mercer V. Thompson, party chief; Woodford P. Metcalfe and Gerald L. Peterson, all from the regional office of the U. S. Geological Survey at Rolla, Mo. They will be here up into November and have an office set up at the city hall.

The engineers said that they were doing the work at the request of the State of Illinois. It was reported the work is being done because of the fluorspar mines and deposits in the area.

Will Try to Take Negroes Past Troops

Guardsmen Turn Back Eight Despute Order by U. S. Judge

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Justice Department said today there is "no basis" for a statement by the Arkansas adjutant general that U. S. marshals escort Negro students to school through National Guard lines at Little Rock.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Arkansas Adj. Gen. Sherman Klinger said today that U. S. marshals will try to take eight Negro children through the lines of National Guardsmen who earlier had turned them back from a white school.

The situation at all-white Central High School, where Negroes were trying to make their first breakthrough in Little Rock, was tense.

Klinger said "a bunch of resolute boys are going to resist." He was believed to mean white students.

Guardsmen, acting again on a direct order from the governor and defying a second and explicit decree by a federal judge, turned back the eight Negroes earlier today. As word spread that U. S. marshals were coming, a crowd began to gather again.

The troops, many with clips of cartridges in their hands, stood about waiting for the marshals. For the first time in the South's fight against desegregation, forces of the state and federal government were directly opposed in a situation that threatened open violence.

White Onlookers Shout

The troops turned back the Negroes today on a direct order from Gov. Orval Faubus, who told National Guard Col. Marion Johnson to keep the white school off limits to Negroes and the Negro school off limits to whites.

"Bash her head in!" "Kill the black s-o-b!" voices from a crowd of white onlookers yelled as a 14-year-old Negro girl, turned back by the troops, tried to catch a bus and get away from the campus.

"Go back to New York!" the crowd yelled as an unidentified white woman stepped forward to befriend the girl, Elizabeth Ford. The white woman finally got the girl into a bus, despite the efforts of white boys to block the door and to keep the bus from pulling away from the stop.

Troops Heavily Armed

Fifty hundred white persons gathered on the sidewalk in front of the school as the eight Negroes—Elizabeth Ford and Perence Roberts together and a group of six others accompanied by three

Rites Thursday For Mrs. Neal Dyer

The funeral of Mrs. Ruth Dyer, 33, wife of Neal Dyer, formerly of Harrisburg, who died in Gary, Ind., at 9:30 p. m. Sunday, will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday. Rev. Ronald Featherston, Gary, Ind., and Rev. Eula B. Sanders will officiate and the services will be held in the Adkin church near Omaha.

Mrs. Dyer is survived by her husband, Neal Dyer, and their six-year-old daughter; her father, Rev. Sam Ripperdan, Harrisburg; her brothers, Harry Ripperdan, St. Louis, Mo., and Sam Ripperdan Jr., Gary, Ind.; and her sisters, Mrs. Jeanne Verharst, Collinsville, Mrs. Evelyn Marmon, St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Peach Hooten, Gary, Ind., and Mrs. Mary Lou Spurlock, Harrisburg.

A LARGE FORD TRUCK, loaded with coal, turned over about 10:30 this morning, near the intersection of Route 13 and the L. & N. railroad. There were no injuries. State Patrolman Richard Pearcey of Eldorado, who investigated the accident, said the truck turned over when the driver, Joe Prentice Wilson, Junction, took to the right shoulder of the highway to avoid hitting an automobile driven by Mrs. Dillard Lloyd of Eldorado. With Mrs. Lloyd were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Casteel, also from Eldorado. Both vehicles were traveling east, it is reported, and as Mrs. Lloyd approached the railroad crossing she slowed down. The driver of the truck, started to pass the car, but there was another truck coming west and Wilson then pulled off the highway on the right side. The truck hit the signal light, broke the standard off at the base, carried it on across the railroad tracks. The truck then turned over on the right. Parts of the signal were scattered over a wide area. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Something New

By Bruce Boissat

Politics is a pretty old game and so some people imagine there's never anything new in it. But there is, and the 1960 Republican contenders for the presidency may be the ones to prove it.

For some time now a nomination race has been shaping up between Vice President Nixon and retiring Sen. William F. Knowland of California. Knowland made the prospects more certain by telling friends among California lawmakers that he definitely plans to run for governor of that state next year.

All along, the present Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has indicated an intention to run again, which would give California one of the hottest primary fights in many years.

Knight could, of course, change
his mind and run instead for the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.
He doesn't particularly want the spot, but he might under some circumstances decide that going for it was the best thing.

Should he battle for the governorship, however, then the big question would be where Nixon would throw his very substantial weight.

And here's where the relative
novelty in politics might appear.
Some sources indicate he may lend his backing to Knowland, who could turn out to be his chief 1960 rival
if he went on to win the 1958 governorship election.

Seldom in political history would
you be likely to find a parallel.
Presidential contenders are not in the habit of helping to build each other up. Their normal instincts are all the other way.

But Nixon has a problem. His dislike of Knight is personal as well as political, and is well known.
To get behind the governor would look bad, and would go against his grain.

There's no way to stay aloof
from the struggle, since the Southern California Republican organization is largely Nixon's, and would have to take a definite stand in any such contest.

Possibly the vice president believes his status with respect to the 1960 nomination is so strong that he can give such aid and still not suffer unduly. But obviously there is a risk involved and politicians as a breed do not run around deliberately trying to increase their risks.

It could be that Nixon just does n't think he has any other choice in the matter, and simply will have to let the chips fall where they may.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

CAB Keeps Airline Passenger
Rates Low; Frances Knight
Revamps Passport Office;
Charley Wilson Bowed Out Because He Was An Obedient Husband.

WASHINGTON. — Since I am about to leave on one of the so-called "work-and-play" vacations to Greece and the Near East, I would like to settle some scores
before I go with people who deserve to have them settled. Here
are the scores:

Commissioner Joseph Minetti —
When Minetti was up for appointment to the Civil Aeronautics Board I wrote some critical things about him and raised questions about his qualifications for his job. Since then he has done an excellent job, and the things I said
about him have proved unjustified.
I want to congratulate him.

The other day he and other members of the CAB—with the exception of ex-Sen. Chan Gurney
of South Dakota—took a courageous stand against the big airlines and for the public by refusing a passenger fare increase. Unlike the bandwagon rush of U. S. Steel and others to hike prices, they bucked the stampede toward inflation. Chairman James R. Durfee is another who is doing a good job on the CAB.

The Mellon Family—For a good many years I have been critical of the Mellon family's financial empire and its onetime monopoly
in aluminum. But the other day
I was in Pittsburgh, where the Mellons have patriotically contributed money and foresight and community spirit in remaking that city in cooperation with a mayor who is just as strongly Democratic as they are Republican.

Mayor Dave Lawrence and the Mellons are a politically diverse team. Nevertheless, the Mellons are now supporting Lawrence for a fourth term. They may disagree with his politics, but they
Paul Mellon, son of the old gentleman who was secretary of the treasury under Harding Coolidge, and Hoover, has contributed to a long list of charities which he doesn't advertise and few people know about, while Dick Mellon,
nephew of the old man, is the builder-up of Pittsburgh.

Miss Frances Knight, chief of
state department passports —
Sometime ago I wrote some mean things about Miss Knight and suggested she was not the person to handle the state department's passport division. What I said
was undeserved. On the contrary,
Miss Knight has put amazing new vim into the passport division, has moved it out of rundown quarters,
got the cockroaches out of the files, and has increased efficiency
to the point that it can turn out
4,000 passports a day.

In ten years, the number of passports issued annually has increased from 200,000 in 1947 to 850,000 this year. To handle this increase, Miss Knight has junked
the old gluepots with which clerks slowly and laboriously pasted your picture on the passport. Instead,
an up-to-date machine, plus hot
irons, does the work.

She is also a great promoter of
"people-to-people" friendship and a believer that every American traveler can be an unofficial ambassador of good will—if he wants to. Miss Knight tucks a discreet reminder in every envelope when she mails you your passport, suggesting that you too can be an ambassador.

Secretary of Defense Wilson—
Along with quite a few other newspapermen, I have sometimes been mean to old Charley Wilson. One of my editors, Dale
Stafford of the Greenville, Mich.,
News, told me a long time ago
that I shouldn't be too tough on Charley. He was right.

Charley came to Washington pretty green, stumbled around quite a bit. But he has now learned the ropes in the most intricate department in Washington, and it's too bad that he's leaving just as he's getting good.

One thing you have to remember about Charley is that he's the only cabinet member, aside from John Foster Dulles, who holds regular press conferences. In fact,
he's gone much further than Dulles in speaking out frankly. It's because Charley tries to be frank
that he gets his foot in his mouth.
It's paradoxical, but a fact, that the press has crucified him for speaking out in the manner they demand that cabinet members
speak out. When Charley Wilson
obliges, they murder him.

I strongly suspect that Charley would stay on in Washington if he were not such a dutiful husband.
Mrs. Wilson doesn't like it here
and wants to go back to Michigan.
In Detroit she was the queen
of the motor industry. In Washington she was just another cabinet wife in a town jam-packed with ambassadors, senators, new cabinet wives and old cabinet wives.
Truth is, Mrs. Wilson has been lonesome, a bit isolated, and very much wants to go back to Michigan.

When Charley comes home in the evening, he puts on his slip pers and has his evening high ball. When he finishes it, he reaches for a second. But Mrs.

Wilson intervenes:

"No, Charley," she says firmly, "that's enough."

Charley obeys. He's obeying now by going back to Michigan. But it's too bad. Washington will miss him.

Having got these things off my chest, I am leaving the whirl of Washington Merry-Go-Round in the hands of my able associate.

Jack Anderson. I shall take a trip to Greece, now sitting between the Iron Curtain and Syria
as one of the most important ba-stions against communism in all of Europe. Maybe I'll also take a look at the Sixth Fleet and its important job of keeping the peace;
also take a look at Syria and its neighbors.

I'll be writing from there as the news develops.

Peter Freuchen, Arctic Explorer, TV Quiz Winner, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Freuchen,
71-year-old arctic explorer, author
and TV quiz show champion, died
of a heart attack Monday at the Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska.

Commentator Lowell Thomas informed his office here today that Freuchen collapsed and died at 5:31 p. m. after carrying his luggage up a stairway at the base's officers quarters. The grizzled, one-legged explorer had refused any help, Thomas said.

Freuchen was in Anchorage on
a "sentimental journey" to the Arctic with other veteran explorers including Bernt Balchen, Sir
Hubert Wilkins, and Adm. Donald
B. Macmillan. The expedition was planned in connection with the International Geophysical Year and will be filmed by Thomas for his new TV show.

Freuchen's rugged, bearded face
became familiar to millions of Americans when he made six appearances on CBS' "The $64,000
Question" show last year to win
the quiz's top prize in the category of "The Seven Seas." He later won $16,000 more on "The $64,000 Challenge" when his challenger, a Merchant Marine captain, failed to answer a question.

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

XX

Shapes came clear. The hotel, I decided. And Blanchard, sitting by the bed. The only part of me that hurt was my head. There was a pain there that started high in back and went down into my neck. I closed my eyes and it eased off. I opened my eyes and raised up off the bed and then I felt other pain. Somebody held a hot iron against my backbone. my shoulders ached like sin. my left leg had a bad sore spot above the knee. But I sat up and looked at Blanchard. I could see better out of my left eye. I felt of my right one. There was a hard lump at the side of it and a bandage. "Good morning," Blanchard said. "A bad night, Pike."

"I rode out south, like I said. Found you sprawled by the road at the edge of town. What happened?"

"Nev Hawk. He beat the day."

"Hawk, the ferryman? What did you do to him?"

"I just got too close."

I remembered more about the night. I grabbed the front of Blanchard's shirt. "Harney, I had him! I had Pete Dorsey!"

"You did!"

I told him, forgetting my hurts until I had it all out. Blanchard listened without saying a word. Finally, I was done. I lay back on the bed.

"That took guts, Pike. And practically no sense at all."

"I should've kept another horse for Pete, that's all. We might've made it, Harney."

"You should have come back for me. You might have been killed half a dozen times. Where did you get the idea you could take on the whole bunch?"

"Didn't think that, Harney. I thought... now I suppose I spoiled it for sure."

Blanchard got up and went to the window. "No. Maybe you changed their plans. They might think they've got to hurry now."

"What about Cole Jethroe?"

I got up and looked around the bed for my boots.

We went down to the dining room and I ate four eggs and side meat and a lot of bread and coffee. After I was done, I could see where I might live some longer if I took care of myself. Leaving the hotel, I said, "I turned my horse loose."

"He came back to the livery I put him away and rubbed him down and fed him. He'd been working hard."

Blanchard shook his head. "Dropped it somewhere," I said. "We headed to the livery. Owen didn't say anything to me, just stared at my face. I must have been a sight, judging from how it felt to my fingers. I looked at Pilot. Standing with his head low, he looked dead beat. I told Owen to feed him everything he'd eat and Owen said he would. Then me and Blanchard went out into the sun by the livery and made smokes. I let the sun rub on my sore places."

"What now?" I said.

"Dan Clement came in to see Lillian last night. Stayed there maybe half an hour."

"But Cole didn't show up?"

"She said he didn't."

Blanchard started to walk slow across in front of me, his arms folded over his chest. He said, "Pike, it gets so a man wants to ride out to the Clements' place and force a showdown. Even with practically no chance at all to win he wants to do that."

"Sure, Harney." I knew how he felt. I knew he was mighty tired of waiting. And what I'd done hadn't made it any easier.

Parker's Display New Frigidaire Washers, Dryers

The 1958 Frigidaire automatic washers and new electric dryers with a "wrinkles-away" cycle, are now on display at the Lloyd L. Parker furniture store.

This year, Frigidaire Ultra-Clean washers and Fabric-Master dryers come in many exciting colors, including new turquoise and sunny yellow. Other colors, in addition to white, are gay pink and dramatic charcoal gray. Many washer and dryer models are finished in porcelain, inside and out.

According to Mr. Parker, the

my face. Dick was playing with an old powder horn on the floor in the parlor.

Lillian sat stiff in a straight chair. I could see that she blamed Harney Blanchard for what had happened to me. I knew that this wouldn't help things at all.

Blanchard said, "You know Cole's in town, ma'am?"

"I heard last night," she said. (To Be Continued)

Frigidaire washer was rated "number one" for the cleanest clothes, for lint removal and for driest spin in a field of six leading washers tested recently by the United States Testing Company, Inc.

Mr. Parker also stressed the fact that a new built-in SudsWater Saver on all new Frigidaire washers can cut washday costs up to almost one-half. He said it is possible to save up to 3,500 gallons of hot water a year, plus as many as 40 good-sized boxes of detergent. The washer stores sudsy water in its own bulkhead container, permitting re-use without the need for a separate stationary tub. One model of the Custom Imperial, features a built-in SudsWater Saver that works automatically by a simple dial setting.

On the small load cycle, he says, Frigidaire's new Custom Imperial washer will wash, rinse and spin dry a load of laundry in just 18 minutes, using one-third less water, time, detergent and electricity.

Some Frigidaire electric dryers for 1958 feature a new "Wrinkles-Away" drying cycle for the popular wash-and-wear garments. The new cycle removes wrinkles from just-washed clothes, even those labelled "drip-dry," and smooths out wrinkles in washable garments mused through use or storage. In this fabric category, men's suits, slacks, sweaters, and sportswear, and women's blouses, skirts, dresses and other garments can be dried automatically, ready to wear.

Also included on the Custom Imperial model is an illuminated Fabric Guide which gives specific heat settings for various types of fabrics.

Minute Hard Particles Strengthen Alloys

CHICAGO — (UP) — Microscopic particles of hard materials, some of them as small as a few millionths of an inch in diameter, are helping metallurgists solve the problems posed by higher and faster flight of both planes and missiles.

The metallurgists, working at the Illinois Institute of Technology, spread the particles throughout alloys to form new high-strength materials which can bear excessive temperature and maintain their form.

It was explained that the particles act in the metals much like the pieces of gravel in asphalt pavement which keep the pavement from flowing under a hot sun.

Cowboy Dramas to Go Big On Fall Television Menu

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Television show popularity rating systems may have to switch from points to notches for the new home screen season. Notches on the six-shooters of the biggest collection of western heroes since the motion picture industry hit the box office jackpot with "The Great Train Robbery."

From every direction horse opera stars are headed for the big fall 1957 TV roundup.

"Home on the Range" is TV's new theme song with NBC now meaning "Nothing but Cowboys." At least NBC is out in front in this department. Whether it's a boom or bust depends on audience reaction to six-gallon hats and girls in sunbonnets.

THE HIGH-RATED "adult western," "Gunsmoke," set the pace in the world of purple hills and boots and saddles and now it's a whole-sale western riot with NBC alone introducing six new western shows this fall.

"Wagon Train," featuring Ward Bond as Wagonmaster Seth Adams, is one slated for a Sept. 11 premiere. Bob Horton will be scouting Injuns for Bond but the special "gimmick" of "Wagon Train" is a behind-the-scenes scout signing up big-name stars for the show.

Ernest Borgnine, Michael Rennie and Shelley Winters are the stars of the first three films. Other names you hear being mentioned for the show are Bette Davis, Jimmy Stewart, Greer Garson, Ray Milland, Barbara Stanwyck and Lloyd Nolan.

"THE RESTLESS GUN," starring John Payne, debuts Sept. 23 with NBC's advance label of "a dramatic show which happens to be laid in the west." The show is "different," claims the network, "because Payne does not play a gun-slinger or a peace officer. He's a working cowboy who shoots at targets instead of people, and the plots will accent characterization instead of violence."

Long Delayed

President and Mrs. Eisenhower Begin Rhode Island Vacation

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower landed at the Quonset Point Naval Air Station today to begin their long-delayed Rhode Island vacation.

Skies were overcast as the presidential plane, Columbine III, touched down at Quonset.

Rhode Island Gov. Dennis J. Roberts led a welcoming party of medal-bedecked naval officers.

Following the brief reception, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower boarded the presidential cabin cruiser for the 50-minute cruise across Narragansett Bay to this resort city.

New England restraint gave an air of calm to Newport as it awaited its No. 1 vacationer.

But there was an undercurrent of excitement caused by two months of waiting since the announcement that the President would vacation here.

Mrs. Eisenhower, still convalescing from her recent operation, will disembark at the summer White House on Coaster's Harbor Island. The President will continue to Government Landing and join a motorcade for the short drive to the old Colony House at Washington Square in the heart of the city. There, on a platform beneath the balcony where George Washington welcomed Rochambeau and his 7,000-man French expeditionary force aiding in the revolution, dignitaries will welcome the President to Newport.

After the brief ceremony, the President will be driven to Coaster's Harbor Island, a one-time pauper's asylum now occupied by headquarters of the mammoth Newport Naval Base and the Naval War College.

At the base, Eisenhower will be "piped aboard" through eight side boys in a colorful, traditional naval ceremony.

Weather permitting, the President is expected to test the tough Newport Country Club course for the first time this afternoon.

Lions Sponsor 'Laff-O-Rama' on Sept. 11 and 12

Wednesday has been declared "Circus Nite" by the Lions club of Harrisburg in honor of the big spectacle, "Laff-O-Rama," which it is sponsoring.

Immediately after a special meeting of the club, members will take part in this "kick-off" plan to deliver circus tickets for this big two hour community entertainment, which will be presented in the arena of Bonnell gym next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11-12, for the benefit of the new picnic shelter at the township park.

Members of the Harrisburg Lions club have pledged to deliver tickets to everyone in a specified area. So residents of Harrisburg are urged to stay at home, except a Lions club member to call on them and have their ticket money ready. Certainly there is something new under the sun and "Laff-O-Rama" is it.

By purchasing a ticket you will be contributing to a worthwhile cause in the new picnic shelter at Harrisburg township park.

Await Marshals to Escort Negro Students

Negro ministers—tried to break the color line.

The troops were first called out Monday by Governor Fausb, who ordered them to prevent desegregation of Central High because it might set off a riot between heavily armed whites and Negroes. The troops were armed with tear gas, clubs, pistols and rifles and equipped with half-tracks.

No Negroes tried to register Tuesday, when the school opened. But Tuesday night, U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies ordered the school desegregated at once.

He said he would accept Fausb's explanation that the troops were at the school to prevent violence.

Orderly at Sturgis, Ky. In Sturgis, Ky., 17 Negro pupils who enrolled at the local high school Tuesday under protection of a Federal Court order returned to classes today. A small crowd gathered as the Negroes filed into the school but it was orderly except for a few shots.

"I think we might have it beat now," said Maj. Gen. J. J. Williams, the Kentucky state adjutant general.

School integration was accomplished today amid jeers and cat-calls in North Carolina, largest city—Charlotte. The noise became so intense that school officials ordered "outsiders" to leave the grounds of Charlotte's Harding High School.

Ike Permits Girl To Keep Prize Winning Calf

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the story of a little girl named Sharon Kay Stuffer, a calf named Pearl and a President named Eisenhower.

Sharon Kay — a nine-year-old citizen of Walkersville, Md. — raised Pearl and entered her in the Maryland State Fair at Timonium. Pearl won a $1,000 prize.

But Sharon Kay was sad. The contest rules called for sending the prize-winning calf as a gift to the President.

Sharon Kay burst into tears at the thought of never seeing Pearl again. However, after a family conference, the Stuffers decided to give Pearl to Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin for shipment to the Eisenhower farm.

Sharon Kay was promised a Tennessee walking horse to take Pearl's place.

The White House heard about the gift and the tears Tuesday.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty conferred with the President. Then Hagerty announced that the President "would never want to deprive a youngster of a calf she had raised."

"If the reports were true, he would not accept the Hagerty said."

Stellar Attraction

Actress Maureen O'Hara, Singer Dorothy Dandridge Deny Stories by Confidential

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Scandal smeared movie stars today pleaded for a chance to follow actress Maureen O'Hara and singer Dorothy Dandridge in denying the witness stand spicy tidbits printed about them in Confidential magazine.

The prosecution Tuesday turned the Confidential criminal libel trial into a stellar attraction by putting Irish-tempered Miss O'Hara and Miss Dandridge, a Negro stage-screen star, on the witness stand.

Prosecutor William Ritz said he could produce more "first-hand" evidence that Confidential and Whisper magazines created lies to sensationalize stories. As the trial resumed today, he said he was debating whether to follow up his attack against defense testimony by calling other top stars.

"Many Hollywood stars named in Confidential's yarns have written and telephoned me asking to go on the stand to tell their stories," Ritz said. "Most of them appear anxious to go on the witness stand."

However, Ritz indicated that there would be no need to call additional eager big name volunteers. He said Miss O'Hara and Miss Dandridge testified as rebuttal witnesses because the defense went out of its way in an attempt to establish lurid stories about them were true.

Defense attorney Arthur Crowley had dared the prosecution to call celebrity witnesses so "I can make them admit stories about them were true." The dare apparently backfired.

Miss O'Hara was asked point blank if she had made love with Mexican businessman Enrique Parra in the loges of Grauman's Chinese Theater. "Never," she answered sharply.

Miss Dandridge denied that a story, "What Dorothy Dandridge Did in the Woods," was true. Crowley tried to upset Miss Dandridge's denial and asked her, "Did you ever walk in the woods with band leader Dan Terry?"

"No," she replied. "I did not walk with him or ride with him. It could not be possible because I could not be seen with Mr. Terry in a prejudiced place like Lake Tahoe."

B55 Explodes 6 Miles in Air; Crew Parachutes

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A B55 jet making a simulated bombing run exploded six miles up Tuesday night and its three crewmen ejected themselves into the midst of a driving hailstorm.

All three reached ground alive, but an Air Force spokesman said their faces looked as if they had been "plastered with buckshot" in the hail. All were injured.

The $2,700,000 plane, from Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., crashed and burned, setting fire to a nearby oil tank south of Houston. The fire was rapidly extinguished.

The pilot, 1st Lt. David E. Moore, Dekalb, Ill., suffered a broken leg; the gunner, Sgt. Robert J. Hewlen, Apple Springs, N. Y., a broken arm, and Capt. Arthur J. Manzo (address unavailable), suffered head injuries when the No. 2 engine exploded.

All were badly bruised and cut by the hail. Hewlen said after passing through the hail, they floated into a rainstorm. "It was cold as hell up there," he said, when they bailed out.

The Air Force said it was about 15 degrees below zero at 30,000 feet, where the crew parachuted. All were wearing light flight clothing.

CHURCH OF GOD REVIVAL CONTINUES THROUGH SUNDAY

The revival at the Church of God on South Land street, Harrisburg, which started Saturday, will continue through Sunday. The meetings are held at the church each evening at 7:30 with Rev. F. W. Goff preaching. Rev. C. G. Friedley, pastor of the church, reports three new members were added to the church last week.

Fruit Shipper Complains of Freight Rates

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A southern Illinois fruit and vegetable shipper today charged the Railway Express Agency with "rank discrimination" on its carload freight rates to Chicago.

The charge was made by D. W. Davies, Anna, in a complaint filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission here.

Davies was identified as a grower and shipper of various fruits and vegetables with principal offices at Anna. He charged the Railway Express Agency rates via the Illinois Central Railroad to Chicago are "in violation of the public utility act."

The express company, Davies said, "has since July, 1954, subjected all carload shippers and points in southern Illinois and the city of Chicago to rank discrimination."

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Putnam Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Putnam

Times have changed since Ross G. Putnam and Miss Kate E. Milligan, a Wabash county school teacher, were married in the country home of the bride's mother, on a Sunday afternoon, Sept. 1, 1907. Because it was a Labor Day week end, and there was a celebration in Harrisburg, their ride on the Big Four train from Mt. Carmel to Harrisburg, on that Labor Day Monday, was filled with excitement as passengers got on the train at every stop and rode with them to Harrisburg.

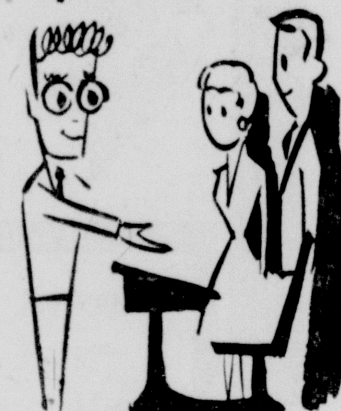

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam were reared in the same community and attended the same church. When Mr. Putnam finished his military service, and his training at the St. Louis school for watchmaker's, he began working for the W. A. Grant jewelry store on the south side of the Harrisburg square. He brought his bride to Harrisburg and they made their first home here. In 1908, the young Putnams moved to Eldorado, opened their own jewelry store and operated it until Mr. Putnam's retirement, 15 years ago. Their home is at 1338 Locust street, Eldorado.

Their three children grew up and are Mrs. L. O. (Miriam) Wright, Lawrenceville, William H. Putnam, Eldorado, and Miss Katherine Putnam, medical technician in New York. There are now five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter, Charlotte Sue Gettner, of Paris, Ill.

Mr. Putnam is interested in farming and since his retirement, spends some time on his small farm in Gallatin county, and the 40 acres in Lawrence county, which his great grandfather bought in 1818 and which has been in the family since that time. This last summer Mr. Putnam has refinished a chest, brought over by the Milligan family at about that time Great grandfather Milligan was from Scotland but his wife was a Corrie and came from England. The Putnam family came from England about 1840 and in 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Putnam visited in England and Scotland and found families by the same names.

Mrs. Putnam gives much of her time in the W.C.T.U. work and

A-Blast Knocks Helmets Off Paratroopers

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Scientists today studied results of an atomic blast which knocked the helmets off unsheltered paratroopers stationed 2 3/4 miles from ground zero at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

More than 100 soldiers of the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N. C., Monday lay face down as the blast, called Galileo, was fired from a 500-foot tower. The human "nerve survival" experiment marked the first time that American soldiers were placed so close to ground zero without the protection of trenches or concrete shelters.

The shot, equal to the power of

Court of Honor Held By Boy Scout Troop 13

Boy Scout Troop 13, sponsored by the First Christian church, held a Court of Honor at the church Thursday evening.

Ten Scouts received their Tenderfoot badges and Boy Scout camp attendance awards and three Cub Scouts advanced to the Boy Scouts. After the Boy Scouts were presented with their Tenderfoot badges, their mothers were introduced as each Scout gave his mother a Scout lapel pin.

As the Cubs were accepted into the Boy Scouts the Cub neckerchiefs were presented to their mothers and the former Cubs were given Scout neckerchiefs and a Boy Scout handbook.

The program opened with the presentation of the Colors and Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Rev. Glenn Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian church, introduced State Senator Glen O. Jones, who spoke to the boys, using the Scout Oath as the basis for his remarks.

Senator Jones stated he had "no fear for the well being of the future as long as there are boys who live up to the Scout Oath."

Following the program refreshments were served.

10,000 tons of TNT, was the 15th in the current series. The Atomic Energy Commission set the next test for Friday.

The AEC said the troops weathered the blast like "old veterans of nuclear warfare." Following the detonation, the troops leaped into action and ran through a short obstacle course carrying full combat gear.

Scientists said that the shock

Spahn Hurls 41st Shutout As Braves Blank Cubs, 8-0; Cardinals Shell Reds, 14-4

By United Press
Southpaw Warren Spahn, with another National League record under his belt, is shaping up more and more as the logical choice to pitch the opening World Series game for the Milwaukee Braves.

The 36-year-old Spahn, who began his major league career 15 years ago, under Casey Stengel—the man he probably will be trying to beat a month from now—registered his 41st shutout by blanking the Chicago Cubs, 8-0, on six hits Tuesday.

That gave Spahn the league record for total lifetime shutouts by a left handed pitcher. It also gave him 18 victories for the season and made him a good bet to embellish another N. L. mark he holds. He is the only southpaw in the history of the circuit who has won 20 games in seven different seasons and now it looks as if he is going to make it eight.

The Braves thereby maintained their comfortable 8 1-2 game lead over the second - place Cardinals, who crushed the Redlegs, 14-4. The Phillies defeated the Dodgers, 3-2, in 12 innings and the Giants beat the Pirates, 6-5 in 12 innings.

Yanks Widen Gap
Over in the American League, the Yankees increased their lead to 5 1-2 games with a 2-0 triumph over the Orioles, while the Tigers scored an 11-inning 3-2 victory over the White Sox in the only other game scheduled.

The Cards shelled Joe Nuxhall for four runs in the first inning and Raul Sanchez for four more in the second as they rapped out 16 hits, including a homer by Del Ennis. Hal Smith led the onslaught by driving in four runs while Ennis and pitcher Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell each drove in three.

Ex-Dodger Chico Fernandez tripped in the 12th inning and scored the winning run for the Phillies on Willie Jones' sacrifice fly. Don Drysdale of the Dodgers nursed a 2-0 lead until Harry Anderson tied the score with a two-run homer in the ninth.

Dick Farrell, who relieved starter Jack Sanford in the eighth and pitched four hitless innings before retiring for a pinch hitter, was credited with his seventh win.

O'Connell Sparks Giants
The Giants won their 12-inning game from the Pirates when Ray Jablonski's sacrifice fly brought in Danny O'Connell. Valmy Thomas sent the game into extra innings with a homer in the ninth. Prior to that, Willie Mays and O'Connell had walloped two-run homers. Stu Miller was the winner and Bob Smith the loser.

Sal Maglie made his first appearance for the Yankees in helping them nail down their victory against the Orioles. The winner was Tom Sturdivant but he yielded to Maglie in the ninth after George Kell opened with his third single of the game. Maglie gave up one more hit but retired the last three batters.

Mickey Mantle went hitless in four times up, dropping to 370, six points behind Ted Williams.

Al Kaline blasted his 21st home run in the 11th inning off Gerry Staley to sink the White Sox. Walt Droppo put Chicago ahead with a homer in the ninth but Detroit tied the score in the bottom of the frame on a walk, a sacrifice and Ray Boone's pinch single.

Permits Still Available for Deer Hunters

SPRINGFIELD —The Conservation Department today announced drawings have been held for deer permits in Ogle and Winnebago counties for Illinois' first deer season since 1900.

The two counties were the only ones where a drawing was necessary, since more permits were available than applicants in the remaining 31 counties where the season will be open Nov. 1-3.

Gov. Stratton, assigned the task of drawing the first name for Ogle county, reached into a box and pulled out the name of Raymond E. Shores, Byron. Shores will get one of the 800 permits for Ogle county.

Conservation Director Glen D. Palmer said the department will continue to accept applications for the deer hunting permits in the remaining counties as long as the county quotas remain unfilled.

Winnebago county also has been assigned a quota of 800 permits for the brief season.

Bow and arrow hunters will be permitted to hunt in any of the open counties in the open bow and arrow deer season, Oct. 1-15.

Palmer cautioned farmers and other landowners and tenants that they must have a permit even to hunt on their own land, although the permit may be obtained without charge.

The other hunters will be required to pay a $5 fee for their deer license for the three-day season.

The 33 counties where the open season has been scheduled are in the extreme northwestern, west central and southern sections of Illinois.

Natches, Mississippi, founded in 1716, is the oldest city on the Mississippi River.

World Speed Boat Races at Mt. Carmel Saturday

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. — The banks of the historic Wabash river will soon be resounding to the pitch of high-speed motors as drivers from all over the United States arrive here to participate in the World Championship Outboard Hydroplane Speed Boat races to be held Saturday, Sept. 7, and Sunday, Sept. 8. On Saturday the drivers' meeting will start at 8:00 a. m. and the first qualifying race will begin at 9:30 a. m. The championship races start at 2:00 p. m. Sunday's drivers' meeting starts at 11:00 a. m. and the first championship race at 1:30 p. m. (CST). For those interested, there will be speed trials starting at daylight Monday, Sept. 9.

The races, which are again sponsored by the Wabash Valley Boat Club as they were two years ago, attracted the best drivers and boats that race in the outboard professional division with over 317 entries being present and are run in compliance with National Outboard Association regulations.

Already entries are beginning to arrive with drivers coming from such far away places as California, Texas, Florida, Tennessee and Iowa. This final big show of the professional outboard racing is considered by many to be what the "500" is to auto racing and the Kentucky Derby is to horse racing. It was attended by sports fans when this event was held there in 1955.

The area provided for the racing fans is on a high bank overlooking the whole race course and is well shaded by lofty trees. Parking facilities are more than adequate and are adjacent to the spectator area.

12 Lettermen
Back on Squad
Of 20 Players

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs today were in their second week of practice, getting ready for their opening football tilt at Murphysboro the night of Friday, Sept. 13.

Head Coach Lawrence Caluffetti has twelve lettermen back but stated today that "between now and Sept. 13 anybody can win a berth on the team; because a boy has a letter doesn't mean he has a post sewed up."

Caluffetti said he believed he had about 20 boys he could pretty well count on.

He has two veteran ends in Bill Yates and Ira (Bud) Logan and another letterman, Don Pickford, who was a guard and tackle last year, is doing a good job in being transformed into an end.

Two lettermen tackles are Jack Simpson and Ronnie Maynard; lettermen guards are Gary Aldridge and Bill Endsley; letterman center is Allen Buchanan; lettermen halfbacks are Don Biggs and Mickey Stone; letterman fullback is Ed Price and Ray Hassett, who lettered at tackle last year, is being groomed for the No. 1 quarterback post.

Caluffetti said there were a number of promising juniors up from last year's Bull Pup team, and these included:

Harold Beal and A. J. Bryant, tackles; Darrell Biggs, center; Gary Leverett, guard; Wendell Fischer, who has played end and guard in the past but who is being made into a halfback; Lowell

Furlong, fullback; Joe Wathen, end; David Dalton, Darrell Duke and Carl Fleming, halfbacks; and Joe Ford, quarterback. Henry Winters, senior guard, also may be of help this year.

The boys practiced twice a day all last week, once on Labor Day and twice Tuesday, with Chester Caddas assisting Caluffetti with the varsity, Jim Beers handling the Bull Pups and Gene Bland the freshmen.

The varsity schedule:
Sept. 13, at Murphysboro; Sept. 20, Marion here; Sept. 27, at Eldorado; Oct. 4, Mt. Vernon here; Oct. 11, at Centralia; Oct. 18, Hermin here; Oct. 25 (Homecoming) Carbondale here; Nov. 1, West Frankfort here; Nov. 9, at Benton.

There will be a freshman-sophomore game on Monday evening following each Friday night varsity tilt.

Memberships of Religious Faiths At Record Highs

NEW YORK — The memberships of the nation's major religious faiths rose to record highs last week, the National Council of Churches reported Monday.

Combined church and synagogue membership totaled 103,224,954, an increase of more than three million over the previous year, according to figures in the council's Yearbook of American Churches.

The council, which embraces 30 church bodies, said its figures indicate that 62 out of every 100 Americans are members of a church or synagogue. This compares with only 20 out of every 100 a century ago, the council said.

The council's figures show there are now 60,148,980 Protestants, a gain of 1,700,000; 34,563,851 Roman Catholics, an increase of 1,167,204; 5,500,000 Jews, the same figure as reported in 1955; and 2,598,055 Eastern Orthodox communicants, a gain of 212,000.

All Objectives Reached

Graham Relaxes After Crusade; Plans New Evangelistic Battles

Editor's Note: The success of Billy Graham's New York crusade raises the question: Whither now? The following report on Graham's plans was written by the only newsman who covered the Billy Graham crusade from its beginning to the end.

By ALBIN KREBS

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — Evangelist Billy Graham is a young man of unusual vitality who doesn't believe in resting on the record of past triumphs.

Only Sunday night he preached the farewell sermon of a 16-week "Crusade to Save New York" that turned out to be the most successful revival of his 10-year career. He left immediately for his home in Montreat, N. C., confident his crusade had wrought great changes in the spiritual life of the city and that "New York will never be the same again."

Today he began a three-week rest-and-meditation period designed not only to put back on his lanky frame 20 pounds lost during the strenuous New York crusade

but also to gird him spiritually for future evangelistic battles.

Graham's job in New York is not yet done. He returns here Sept. 24 to breakfast with ministers of the area, who are planning a follow-up phase of the New York crusade.

This phase is a program of "visitation evangelism" in which Protestant ministers and thousands of laymen will ring the doorbells of their fellow New Yorkers to try to persuade them to become active church members.

Plans More Crusades

The program will be climaxed with a great closing rally on Oct. 27—Reformation Sunday—in the Polo Grounds, home of the New York Giants baseball team. Graham will return to New York for the rally.

Graham and his staff are already preparing for a six-week Caribbean tour that will take them to rival meetings in nine countries, beginning in mid-January.

He will preach a six-weeks crusade in San Francisco's Cow Palace beginning April 27, 1958, and another in his home town of Charlotte, N. C., beginning Sept. 28, 1958.

The evangelist also expects big things in his personal life. He told the United Press before he left New York, but asked that it not be mentioned until today, that he and his wife, Ruth, expect their fifth child in the spring.

Of his New York crusade, Graham said in an interview that "all our objectives have been more than surpassed." He said that "to see Madison Square Garden filled night after night in the worst audience period of the year summer has astounded the critics, the cynics, the experts and even me."

"Long after we're gone," Graham said, "I think the tremendous influence of the crusade will continue and be more and more in evidence."

"The tremendous impact the crusade has made on New York and in many other parts of the country can only be attributed to the work of the spirit of God. Mine is a feeling of thanksgiving and humility that God has called us to have a small part in the spiritual life of New York."

Attendance Records Broken

Graham is the first to point out that no one can accurately say now just how hard his crusade hit New York. But he can point to some impressive figures to argue his crusade has denied, if not "cracked" New York.

"Decisions for Christ" recorded during the crusade totaled 56,767, a modern evangelistic record.

A Yankee Stadium meeting broke all attendance records (100,000) in the stadium's history and in Graham's Madison Square Garden meetings, he not only broke all attendance records but also became the longest-running attraction in the Garden's 30-year history.

The Times Square "Cross roads of the world rally" Sunday night was marred only by a disagreement between Graham's staff and the police department over estimated attendance.

The police set figures at 75,000 persons, Graham's staff at more than 120,000. The eight blocks between Times Square and Herald Square appeared to be jammed with spectators and the crowd overflowed into side streets.

"I doubt that anyone will ever know exactly how many were present," Graham said after the rally, "but I am certain that it was the largest crowd that it has been my privilege to address."

In London's Wembley Stadium, in 1954, Graham addressed 120,000 persons.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. DiEffenbacher, D. D.

(Written for NEA Service)

SATAN, as the opponent of God, is a strange adversary. In his bidding for the interests of man he uses many talents. He is a super salesman who offers tempting items of no value at high prices and on terms which appear attractive. He buys to his own advantage, and trades so shrewdly that every deal is crooked. He makes his dishonest merchandising appear intriguing and worth his price.

Temptation catches us off guard. We occasionally become enmeshed in affairs which are devastating to our better selves. It is so easy to make a thoughtless decision. We must then pay a price to gain back our freedom from his bondage.

We must walk near to God if we wish to avoid the byways and detours which lead to wrong doing. God's way must be sought by all of us.

The Illinois Institute of Technology, (Chicago) formed by the merger of Armour Tech and Lewis Institute, now claims the largest engineering enrollment in the country.

NEW INDUSTRY IN CARRIER MILLS—The Violetta Manufacturing Company, formerly located in Chicago, has moved part of its equipment to the new location—the O'Keefe building on Route 45, Carrier Mills. The move was started over the long Labor Day weekend and nine machines are now in place. Moses Coster, who handles sales for the firm, at extreme right, explains operation of one of the machines to Clyde O'Keefe, Mayor Freeman O'Keefe and Freeman Dale Pankey, partially hidden, president of the Carrier Mills Lions club. At left is Miss Betty Schrikker, daughter of the owners; Mrs. Coster and Mrs. Connie Beard. Mrs. Coster is designer and manager and will train the working force. Mrs. Beard, who has been with the firm for almost two years, is inspector and Betty, who can operate the machines, will be office manager and secretary when the firm is in full production. The machine shown is a double needle machine, used for binding and edging garments. At present the firm manufactures brassieres, corsets, girdles and garter belts, but plans are to expand into the field of dresses, skirts and blouses. Applications for employment will be accepted Friday and only a few operators will be used at the beginning, with two to be added each week and trained by Mrs. Coster. More machines and other equipment will be moved in the near future. Mr. Coster (Daily Register Staff Photo)

City to Furnish Water to Buena Vista Residents

Agreement Voted By Council and Is Signed by Mayor

An agreement has been reached for the furnishing of water from the Harrisburg water system to residents in the Buena Vista area, west of Harrisburg.

At the regular meeting of the Harrisburg City Council, held Tuesday afternoon, all members voted in favor of the agreement and it was signed by Mayor Claude Gibbons. Raymond Pickford represented the Buena Vista group.

The agreement is similar to the one signed recently between the City of Harrisburg and water users in Dorris Heights.

Harrisburg will furnish pipe for the extension of the water service. It is estimated the water main will be extended a distance of one mile.

Cost of installing the water main and all other expense will be handled by the residents connecting to the line. They have agreed to purchase meters, furnish all materials necessary for the individual hookups and maintain the line, under supervision of city water department officials.

The council also passed an ordinance for the furnishing of water to three areas outside the corporate limits of Harrisburg—Dorris Heights, Buena Vista and Muddy. However, an agreement between Harrisburg and Muddy has not been signed.

In other action the council allowed the monthly bills and approved the request for street lights to be installed at three locations—two in the west section of Harrisburg and one at the extreme end of East Dayton street.

Rejected by Zorin

Russia Turns Down Western Package Deal on Disarmament

LONDON (AP) — Russia turned down the Western package deal on disarmament for a second time today, bringing the arms parley close to a breakdown.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin met the West's demand for a final answer to its latest arms proposal with a contemptuous declaration that it contains "nothing new and is unacceptable."

Zorin said the Soviet Union demands unconditional and immediate suspension of further nuclear tests divorced from any other arms-cutting measures which could only lead to "a maze of difficult problems."

When delegates Harold Stassen of the United States, Allan Noble of Britain and David Ritchie of Canada demanded to know if this was the final Soviet answer, Zorin responded that there was nothing new in the plan and said the Soviet government's declaration of Aug. 27 was the answer.

On that date, Zorin rejected the West's "open skies" inspection and two-year nuclear tests suspension proposals in a bitter, 90-minute speech that followed by less than 24 hours a Soviet boast that it had successfully tested an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Thus the month - old conference talks here appeared on the verge of a breakdown, but the delegates agreed to meet again Thursday for further talks.

The West has laid its disarmament cards on the table, submitting an 11-point "first step" disarmament proposal. It called for air and ground inspection to guard against surprise attack, a two-year suspension of nuclear tests tied to a ban on the production of fissionable materials, and a start toward the reduction of conventional armaments and armed forces.

The Western proposal was put forward at last Thursday's session.

Geological Survey Engineers Set Up Office Here

Engineers from the U. S. Geological Survey, Department of Interior, are in this area getting field information to complete topographical contour maps in four counties.

Three engineers with seven local helpers are working in Saline, Gallatin, Hardin and Pope counties from a line running from Harrisburg to Shawneetown and south to the Ohio river.

The engineers are Mercer V. Thompson, party chief; Woodford P. Metcalfe and Gerald L. Peterson, all from the regional office of the U. S. Geological Survey at Rolla, Mo. They will be here up into November and have an office set up at the city hall.

The engineers said that they were doing the work at the request of the State of Illinois. It was reported the work is being done because of the fluorspar mines and deposits in the area.

Will Try to Take Negroes Past Troops

Guardsmen Turn Back Eight Despite Order by U. S. Judge

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said today there is "no basis" for a statement by the Arkansas adjutant general that U. S. marshals escort Negro students to school through National Guard lines at Little Rock.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Adj. Gen. Sherman Klinger said today that U. S. marshals will try to take eight Negro children through the lines of National Guardsmen who earlier had turned them back from a white school.

The situation at all-white Central High School, where Negroes were trying to make their first breakthrough in Little Rock, was tense.

Klinger said "a bunch of resolute boys are going to resist." He was believed to mean white students.

Guardsmen, acting again on a direct order from the governor and defying a second and explicit decree by a federal judge, turned back the eight Negroes earlier today. As word spread that U. S. marshals were coming, a crowd began to gather again.

The troops, many with clips of cartridges in their hands, stood about waiting for the marshals. For the first time in the South's fight against desegregation, forces of the state and federal government were directly opposed in a situation that threatened open violence.

White Onlookers Shout

The troops turned back the Negroes today on a direct order from Gov. Orval Faubus, who told National Guard Col. Marion Johnson to keep the white school off limits to Negroes and the Negro school off limits to whites.

"Bash her head in!" "Kill the black s-o-b!" voices from a crowd of white onlookers yelled as a 14-year-old Negro girl, turned back by the troops, tried to catch a bus and get away from the campus.

"Go back to New York!" the crowd yelled as an unidentified white woman stepped forward to befriend the girl, Elizabeth Ford.

The white woman finally got the girl into a bus, despite the efforts of white boys to block the door and to keep the bus from pulling away from the stop.

Troops Heavily Armed

Five hundred white persons gathered on the sidewalk in front of the school as the eight Negroes — Elizabeth Ford and Perence Roberts together and a group of six others accompanied by three

Flaming Jet Hits Homes

Two Destroyed in St. Louis Suburb; Pilot Killed; 7 Residents Escape

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A flaming jet fighter plane plunged into a residential district late Tuesday, killing the pilot and destroying two homes. Seven residents of the fire-gutted homes escaped death only by their providential absence when the plane crashed into suburban Berkeley near the Lambert-St. Louis Airport.

Navy Lt. John R. Renshaw, 28, a test pilot was killed. Authorities planned an exhaustive examination of the wreckage today in an effort to determine the cause of the engine failure.

Renshaw, a Centerville, Md., resident who came here from the naval air test center at Patuxent River, Md., to pick up and return a McDonnell Aircraft Corp. Demon F3H jet, barely got off the ground before fire started shooting out of his plane.

The ship wavered, according to witnesses, before it reached an altitude of 500 feet. Then it started down as though out of control.

It struck the street in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meyer in Bel Ridge after shearing off the top of a tree. Then it bounced into the Meyer house, continuing into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider and their three children.

Harry Fields, who was watching television across the street, looked out the window when he heard the shrill characteristic whistle of an approaching jet.

"It came out of the sky like a bolt of lightning," Fields said, "and it was just as destructive. Both those frame houses were engulfed by flames seconds after it hit."

By the time fire departments from Bel Ridge and Berkeley arrived, the Meyer and Schneider homes were smoking rubble. Fire-

Keneipp, Allen Purchase Grocery On Sloan Street

Ed Keneipp and Kenneth Allen have purchased the grocery store at 628 West Sloan street from Mr. and Mrs. Winston Gidcomb and will operate it as the Sloan Street Market. It is in the building owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rose.

The store is open for business although all work of arranging shelves, refrigeration boxes has not been completed. A formal opening will be held at a later date. The interior already has been redecorated and stock rearranged.

It will be a U. B. C. store.

Mr. Keneipp has operated a grocery store for 18 years at 1001 South Land street and has closed this business. Mr. Allen formerly was a partner in Thompson and Allen, operators of a grocery, restaurant and service station on Route 13 at the Carrier Mills blacktop road west of Harrisburg.

Vandals Deface New Home

Vandals early last night defaced the brand new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bellamy at the extreme south end of Webster street.

Chief of Police Ross said the defacing job of the structure, not yet moved into, though some of the furniture already is there, occurred between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Using red shoe polish, the words "I Will Kill" were printed on the white living room walls. In another room was printed "I Will Kill Tonight." A fire had been built near the house on a concrete patio. Red stains splattered walls all over the place and the new wooden kitchen cabinets.

Crosses were marked on lamp shades, four or five light bulbs had been smashed, dirt was brought in and scattered and some pieces of furniture were scratched.

Police worked last night and again today in an effort to find out who went in the house, apparently small persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy are new in Harrisburg. He is employed at Mac's Goodvear store at Poplar and Jackson. She is a new member of the Harrisburg Township high school faculty.

Carbondale Pilot Hurt in Japan in Marine Plane Crash

TOKYO (AP) — The pilot of a U. S. Marine AD6 Skyraider which crashed and burned on takeoff at Tokyo International Airport last week was identified today as 1st Lt. Dan F. Smith, 23, Carbondale, Ill.

Authorities of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, of which Smith is a member, said the officer was in the Tokyo Army hospital recovering from first and second degree burns on his face and legs. He also suffered less severe burns on his hands, it was reported. His condition was described as good.

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Smith, Carbondale.

Marine authorities said an investigation is under way to determine the cause of the accident.

Bagwill Tells Kiwanis of Early Labor Problems

Some of the problems and conditions faced by labor in the early days of coal mining were discussed before members of the Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple by George Bagwill. Mr. Bagwill, who is celebrating his 87th birthday today, told of the terrible conditions in the homes of coal miners in the period of 1895 to 1897 and compared them with conditions in the miners' homes of today.

"The right to strike was the only weapon the miners had in the early days to bring about the transformation of conditions which are found today," he said.

However, Mr. Bagwill stated, graft and corruption are found in the labor organizations today and he added he could not see an end to it all.

"The problem is something to think about," Mr. Bagwill stated. He stated he doubts one big union, which has been advocated, would be the answer to corruption. A big union, he said, would be powerful enough to sway government and there would be no telling how the individual member would fare under such an organization.

Mr. Bagwill discussed the early organization of the miners' union. The first organization, the old Knights of Labor, he said, was not strong enough to bring about improvement in working conditions and it is extinct today.

In 1894 the coal miners were called to a mass meeting at Murphysboro and a national suspension of work was called to improve wages and working conditions. The strike failed, he said, and under working conditions of that period the miner only existed—he was not living.

Sam Cape was program chairman for last night's meeting and introduced the speaker in the club's observance of Labor Day. Guest at last night's meeting was Reginald Riegel, guest of Dawan Fritte.

B. R. Gholson of Galatia RFD Is New Saline County ASC Office Manager

B. R. Gholson, RFD 3, Galatia, is the new manager of the Saline county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, located in the city hall, Harrisburg.

Mr. Gholson is a native of Saline county, being born in Rector township near Gholson Grove church, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gholson. He has lived on a farm all his life and is interested in the problems of the farmer. "I can sympathize with the problems of the farmer and will be working at all times to help the farmers," Mr. Gholson declared in speaking of the new job he is undertaking.

Although active as a farmer, Mr. Gholson also has taught school and retired from the profession with twenty years of teaching with the close of the 1956-57 term.

He attended the Broughton schools through the first three years of high school, then was graduated from the Eldorado Township high school with the class of 1930. He attended both Union college, Jackson, Tenn., and Southern Illinois University. He taught in schools in Saline, White and Hamilton counties.

The change in management of the ASC office was effective Tuesday, Sept. 3, with Mr. Gholson succeeding Edgar Thompson, who has retired.

Mr. Gholson is married, his wife being the former Miss Mabel Hargrave, and they have two sons. One son, Franklin, is serving with the U. S. Air Forces in France and James Richard, 11 years of age, is at home. Mrs. Gholson

is a teacher in the Broughton grade school.

The new ASC office manager, who trained for the job by attending a government school at Anna during the summer, is a brother of Joe Gholson, former teacher in the Carrier Mills high school, now pastor of the Cottage Grove Baptist church near Alton. He has four sisters, Mrs. Roy (Lettie) Watson, Mrs. Robert (Easter) Driskell, Mrs. Lee (Ethel) Porter and Miss Annis Gholson, all of Eldorado.

A field supervisor met with Mr. Gholson and members of the Saline county ASC board of directors Tuesday to direct the change in management. ASC directors are Herman Driskell, Mountain township, chairman; M. L. Ragsdale, Cottage township; Gobel Dutton, Harrisburg township.

A LARGE FORD TRUCK, loaded with coal, turned over about 10:30 this morning, near the intersection of Route 13 and the L. & N. railroad. There were no injuries. State Patrolman Richard Pearcy of Eldorado, who investigated the accident, said the truck turned over when the driver, Joe Prentice Wilson, Junction, took to the right shoulder of the highway to avoid hitting an automobile driven by Mrs. Dillard Lloyd of Eldorado. With Mrs. Lloyd were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Casteel, also from Eldorado. Both vehicles were travelling east, it is reported, and as Mrs. Lloyd approached the railroad crossing she slowed down. The driver of the truck, started to pass the car, but there was another truck coming west and Wilson then pulled off the highway on the right side. The truck hit the signal light, broke the standard off at the base, carried it on across the railroad tracks. The truck then turned over on the right. Parts of the signal were scattered over a wide area. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

THIS IS THE EDESEL, Ford Motor Company's newest entry in the medium price car field, available in 18 models in four series—Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation. The new models will be on display in Harrisburg Wednesday at Ashford-Harper Edsel showrooms.

New Edsel With Outstanding Features On Display Wednesday at Ashford-Harper

A brilliant new vertical front styling theme and several outstanding engineering innovations that include "Teletouch" push button transmission controls located in the steering wheel hub are features of America's newest automobile—the Edsel.

Under actual development since July of 1954, mechanical and engineering prototypes of the Edsel have been driven more than 1,500,000 miles in one of the most thorough and comprehensive test programs ever undertaken by a manufacturer.

The car will be publicly introduced in dealer showrooms on Wednesday, Sept. 4. In Harrisburg the new Edsels will be on display at Ashford-Harper Edsel showrooms.

Available in 18 models and four series—Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation—the Edsel medium price car line offers two convertibles, sedans, two-door and four-door hardtops and five station wagons. One convertible is available in the Pacer series and the other in the Citation, at the top of the line.

Dual headlights, self-adjusting brakes which automatically compensate for brake lining wear, safety rim wheels and four barrel carburetion are standard equipment with all Edsels. Also standard, with purchase of a heater, is a unique single-dial heater-defroster-ventilator control which eliminates the standard, but complex, system of levers, knobs and air vent doors.

The Edsel vertical grille combined with an inner chrome impact ring and crisp horizontal sections on either side give an easily identifiable look of quiet elegance from blocks away. The concave sculptured sides have an ever-widening teardrop effect and carry completely through to the taillights, giving a look of fluid motion and power.

The horizontal taillights blend smoothly into the flight deck luggage compartment lid to provide a solid bar of illumination on each side. Each bar is in two segments, divided at the luggage compartment lid. Outer segments contain turn indicators and brake warning lights in addition to normal red night lights.

Adding to the long, low look of the new Edsels is a slightly raised center section of the hood which recalls the elegance of motoring three decades ago.

New fabrics and patterns are featured in Edsel harmonizing interiors, color-keyed to the 19 solid and 31 two-tone exterior combinations. Exceptional comfort is provided by new contour seats which reduce long trip fatigue. Front seats been divided in a unique one-third, two thirds arrangement with the one-third segment for the driver.

The entire instrument cluster has been designed to locate all controls and dials within easy, natural view and reach of the driver. Mounted high in the cluster, beneath the raised padded safety cowl which eliminates any panel glare, is the new floating drum type speedometer which rotates smoothly and evenly as the car accelerates or slows.

The new E-400 Edsel engine is available in Ranger and Pacer series.

NATO, Soviets To Maneuver in Arctic Waters

LONDON (U)—Western observers today saw as part of Russia's new "hard line" cold war policy Moscow's announcement that extensive Soviet naval war maneuvers will begin next week in Arctic waters.

Naval units of the Atlantic Pact nations are scheduled to carry out sea exercises in other Arctic waters during part of the Soviet maneuvers. But Western naval observers minimized the possibility that the two fleets would "interfere" with one another.

Radio Moscow broadcast a Soviet Defense Ministry announcement Monday night saying that the maneuvers will be held in the Barents and Kara seas northeast of Scandinavia from Sept. 10 to Oct. 15.

The broadcast said Soviet naval vessels would test "different kinds of modern weapons" and warned all foreign ships and planes to stay clear of the "danger zone."

A U. P. dispatch from Moscow said the reference to "modern" arms presumably meant tactical nuclear weapons. There was no elaboration.

More than 150 naval vessels are scheduled to take part in NATO sea maneuvers from Sept. 19 to Sept. 28 in a still to be defined area off the Norwegian coast. U. S. units participating in these games sailed from the Atlantic Coast Monday.

A naval spokesman in Washington said the NATO maneuvers probably would be held off Norway to the west but not as far north as the Soviet war game area.

President Signs Bill to Protect FBI Secret Files

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill to protect the secrecy of FBI files.

The measure also protects the files of Treasury narcotics and tax squad agents.

The new law, a watered-down version of the administration's original request, spells out new rules for federal trial courts to provide an accused person with statements witnesses gave to government agents which are to be used against him.

The measure was enacted to clarify the Supreme Court's so-called Jencks decision that a defendant has the right to see statements made against him even before trial.

The new law specifies that defendants have a right to examine reports to the government by informants who subsequently testify against them. But the judge would be allowed to exclude any part

Six Hungarian Refugees Get Scholarships

LENOX, Mass. (U.P.)—Six refugees from their native Hungary won scholarships for study at the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood.

Arpad Andreas Darasz, Lajos Toth, Erno Sethy, Gabor Neuman, George Alexander Vas and Piroška Kellen, a woman, were brought to the United States by the International Rescue Committee and the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society.

Their musical studies in the United States are being financed by the Aid to Hungarian Artists Program of the American National Theater and Academy (ANTA).

of the witnesses' statements that did not relate to the trial.

If the government balked at producing a statement from its file, the judge could strike out the testimony of the witness or declare a mistrial.

never anything new in it. But
contenders for the presidency may be the ones to prove it.

For some time now a nomination race has been shaping up between Vice President Nixon and
retiring Sen. William F. Knowland
of California. Knowland made the prospect more certain by telling friends among California lawmakers that he definitely plans to
year.

All along, the present Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has indicated an intention to run again, which would give California one of the hottest
primary fights in many years.

Knight could, of course, change
his mind and run instead for the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.
He doesn't particularly want the spot, but he might under some circumstances decide that going for
it was the best thing.

Should he battle for the governorship, however, then the big question would be where Nixon would throw his very substantial weight.
And here's where the relative
novelty in politics might appear.
Some sources indicate he may lead
his backing to Knowland, who could turn out to be his chief 1960 rival
if he went on to win the 1958 gov-
ernorship election.

Seldom in political history would
you be likely to find a parallel.
Presidential contenders are not in
the habit of helping to build each
other up. Their normal instincts
are all the other way.

But Nixon has a problem. His dislike of Knight is personal as
well as political, and is well known.
To get behind the governor would look bad, and would go against his grain.

There's no way to stay aloof
from the struggle, since the Southern California Republican organization is largely Nixon's, and would have to take a definite stand in any
such contest.

Possibly the vice president believes his status with respect to
the 1960 nomination is so strong
that he can give such aid and still not suffer unduly. But obviously there is a risk involved and politicians as a breed do not run around deliberately trying to increase their risks.

It could be that Nixon just does n't think he has any other choice in the matter, and simply will have to let the chips fall where they may.

By DREW PEARSON

CAB Keeps Airline Passenger
Rates Low; Frances Knight
Revamps Passport Office;
Charley Wilson Bowed Out Because He Was An Obedient Husband.

WASHINGTON. — Since I am about to leave on one of Ike's so-called "work-and-play" vacations to Greece and the Near East, I would like to settle some scores
before I go with people who deserve to have them settled. Here
are the scores:

Commissioner Joseph Minetti —
When Minetti was up for appointment to the Civil Aeronautics
Board I wrote some critical
things about him and raised questions about his qualifications for
his job. Since then he has done an excellent job, and the things I said
about him have proved unjustified.
I want to congratulate him.

members of the CAB—with the exception of ex-Sen. Chan Gurney
of South Dakota—took a courageous stand against the big airlines
and for the public by refusing a passenger fare increase. Unlike
the bandwagon rush of U. S. Steel
and others to hike prices, they bucked the stampede toward inflation. Chairman James R. Dur-
fee is another who is doing a good job on the CAB.

The Mellon Family—For a good
many years I have been critical
of the Mellon family's financial empire and its onetime monopoly
in aluminum. But the other day
I was in Pittsburgh, where the Mellons have patriotically contributed money and foresight and
community spirit in remaking
that city in cooperation with a
mayor who is just as strongly Democratic as they are Republican.

Mayor Dave Lawrence and the Mellons are a politically diverse
team. Nevertheless, the Mellons are now supporting Lawrence for a fourth term. They may dis-
Paul Mellon, son of the old gentleman who was secretary of the treasury under Harding Coolidge,
and Hoover, has contributed to a long list of charities which he doesn't advertise and few people
know about, while Dick Mellon,
nephew of the old man, is the builder-up of Pittsburgh.

Miss Frances Knight, chief of
state department passports —
Sometime ago I wrote some mean
things about Miss Knight and suggested she was not the person to handle the state department's passport division. What I said
was undeserved. On the contrary,
Miss Knight has put amazing new vim into the passport division, has moved it out of rundown quarters,
got the cockroaches out of the
files, and has increased efficiency
to the point that it can turn out
4,000 passports a day.

In ten years, the number of passports issued annually has increased from 200,000 in 1947 to 850,000 this year. To handle this increase, Miss Knight has junked
the old gluepots with which clerks
slowly and laboriously pasted your picture on the passport. Instead,
an up-to-date machine, plus hot
irons, does the work.

She is also a great promoter of
"people-to-people" friendship and
a believer that every American
traveler can be an unofficial ambassador of good will—if he wants
to. Miss Knight tucks a discreet card in every envelope when she mails you your passport,

suggesting that you too can be an ambassador.

Secretary of Defense Wilson—
Along with quite a few other newspapermen, I have sometimes
been mean to old Charley Wilson. One of my editors, Dale
Stafford of the Greenville, Mich.,
News, told me a long time ago
that I shouldn't be too tough on Charley. He was right.

Charley came to Washington
pretty green stumbled around
quite a bit. But he has now learned the ropes in the most intricate
department in Washington, and
it's too bad that he's leaving just
as he's getting good.

One thing you have to remember about Charley is that he's the only cabinet member, aside from
John Foster Dulles, who holds
regular press conferences. In fact,
he's gone much further than Dulles in speaking out frankly. It's because Charley tries to be frank
that he gets his foot in his mouth.
It's paradoxical, but a fact, that
the press has crucified him for
speaking out in the manner they demand that cabinet members
speak out. When Charley Wilson
obliges, they murder him.

I strongly suspect that Charley
would stay on in Washington if he
were not such a dutiful husband.
Mrs. Wilson doesn't like it here
and wants to go back to Michigan.
In Detroit she was the queen
of the motor industry. In Washington she was just another cabinet
wife in a town jam-packed with ambassadors, senators, new cabinet wives and old cabinet wives.
Truth is, Mrs. Wilson has been lonesome, a bit isolated, and very much wants to go back to Michigan.

When Charley comes home in
the evening, he puts on his slip-

pers and has his evening high
ball. When he finishes it, he reaches for a second. But Mrs.
Wilson intervenes:

"No, Charley," she says firmly, "that's enough."

Charley obeys. He's obeying now
by going back to Michigan. But it's too bad. Washington will miss him.

Having got these things off my chest, I am leaving the whirl of Washington Merry-Go-Round in
the hands of my able associate,
Jack Anderson. I shall take a trip to Greece, now sitting between the Iron Curtain and Syria
as one of the most important ba-stions against communism in all of Europe. Maybe I'll also take a look at the Sixth Fleet and its important job of keeping the peace;
also take a look at Syria and its neighbors.

I'll be writing from there as the
news develops.

Peter Freuchen, Arctic Explorer, TV Quiz Winner, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Freuchen,
71-year-old arctic explorer, author
and TV quiz show champion, died
of a heart attack Monday at the Elmendorf Air Force Base, An-
chorage, Alaska.

Commentator Lowell Thomas informed his office here today that
5:31 p. m. after carrying his lug-

gage up a stairway at the base's
officers' quarters. The grizzled,
one-legged explorer had refused any
help, Thomas said.

Freuchen was in Anchorage on
a "sentimental journey" to the Arctic with other veteran explorers including Bernt Balchen, Sir
Hubert Wilkins, and Adm. Donald
B. Macmillan. The expedition was planned in connection with the International Geophysical Year and will be filmed by Thomas for his
new TV show.

Freuchen's rugged, bearded face
became familiar to millions of Americans when he made six appearances on CBS' "The $64,000
Question" show last year to win
the quiz's top prize in the category of "The Seven Seas." He later won $16,000 more on "The $64,000 Challenge" when his challenger, a Merchant Marine cap-

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

XX

Shapes came clear. The hotel, I decided. And Blanchard, sitting by the bed. The only part of me that hurt was my head. There was a pain there that started high in back and went down into my neck. I closed my eyes and it eased off. I opened my eyes and raised up off the bed and then I felt other pain. Somebody held a hot iron against my backbone, my shoulders ached like sin, my left leg had a bad sore spot above the knee. But I sat up and looked at Blanchard. I could see better out of my left eye. I felt of my right one. There was a hard lump at the side of it and a bandage.

"Good morning," Blanchard said. "A bad night, Pike."

"Howdy, Harney." My lips were busted up, too. I noticed when I talked. "You don't know the half of it. How did I get here?"

"I rode out south, like I said. Found you sprawled by the road at the edge of town. What happened?"

"Nev Hawk. He beat the day-

"Hawk, the ferryman? What did you do to him?"

"I just got too close."

I remembered more about the night. I grabbed the front of Blanchard's shirt. "Harney, I had him! I had Pete Dorsey!"

"You did!"

I told him, forgetting my hurts until I had it all out. Blanchard listened without saying a word. Finally, I was done. I lay back on the bed.

"That took guts, Pike. And practically no sense at all."

"I should've kept another horse for Pete, that's all. We might've made it, Harney."

"Didn't think that, Harney. I thought... now I suppose I spoiled it for sure."

"What about Cole Jethroe?"

I got up and looked around the bed for my boots.

We went down to the dining room and I ate four eggs and side meat and a lot of bread and coffee. After I was done, I could see where I might live some longer if I took care of myself. Leaving the hotel, I said, "I turned my horse loose."

down and fed him. He'd been working hard."

"I like to killed him," I said, shaking my head, sad. "See anything of my Springfield?"

Blanchard shook his head. "Dropped it somewhere," I said. We headed to the livery. Owen didn't say anything to me, just stared at my face. I must have been a sight, judging from how it felt to my fingers. I looked at Pilot. Standing with his head low, he looked dead beat. I told Owen to feed him everything he'd eat and Owen said he would. Then me and Blanchard went out into the sun by the livery and made smokes. I let the sun rub on my sore places.

"What now?" I said.

"Dan Clement came in to see Lillian last night. Stayed there maybe half an hour."

"But Cole didn't show up?"

"She said he didn't."

Blanchard started to walk slow across in front of me, his arms folded over his chest. He said, "Pike, it gets so a man wants to ride out to the Clements' place and force a showdown. Even with practically no chance at all to win he wants to do that."

Blanchard's eyes fixed on me. Soft, he said. "Am I wrong? Why am I waiting? Because it's Dorsey's only chance, isn't that right?"

"Sure, Harney."

"We had a chance last night that came because we waited. We had two chances last night, counting Cole, and neither one paid off. Either one could have."

I started to say something. He stopped me with a look. He said, "Yes, Pike. Lillian Again."

I shrugged and limped along with him. I couldn't see why he wanted to talk to Lillian so much when he didn't believe what she said. Maybe it was different now because Cole Jethroe did come on the night she said, even if he didn't come on the train. I hoped he felt different. It seemed to me like everybody would like Lillian once they got to know her. I wished Blanchard could see her a few times without Pete Dorsey on his mind.

By Lillian's gate, I stopped. "You married, Harney?"

Blanchard looked surprised, then grinned. He shook his head.

Lillian let us in without a word and without taking her eyes off

my face. Dick was playing with an old powder horn on the floor in the parlor.

Lillian sat stiff in a straight chair. I could see that she blamed Harney Blanchard for what had happened to me. I knew that this wouldn't help things at all.

Blanchard said, "You know Cole's in town, ma'am?"

"I heard last night," she said. (To Be Continued)

Frigidaire washer was rated "number one" for the cleanest clothes, for lint removal and for driest spin in a field of six leading washers tested recently by the United States Testing Company, Inc.

Mr. Parker also stressed the fact that a new built-in SudsWater Saver on all new Frigidaire washers can cut washday costs up to almost one-half. He said it is possible to save up to 3,500 gallons of hot water a year, plus as many as 40 good-sized boxes of detergent. The washer stores sudsy water in its own bulkhead container, permitting re-use without the need for a separate stationary tub. One model of the Custom Imperial, features a built-in SudsWater Saver that works automatically by a simple dial setting.

On the small load cycle, he says, Frigidaire's new Custom Imperial washer will wash, rinse and spin-dry a load of laundry in just 12 minutes, using one-third less water, time, detergent and electricity.

Some Frigidaire electric dryers for 1958 feature a new "Wrinkles-Away" drying cycle for the popular wash-and-wear garments. The new cycle removes wrinkles from just-washed clothes, even those labelled "drip-dry," and smooths out wrinkles in washable garments mused through use or storage. In this fabric category, men's suits, slacks, sweaters, and sportswear, and women's blouses, skirts, dresses and other garments can be dried automatically, ready to wear.

Also included on the Custom Imperial model is an illuminated Fabric Guide which gives specific heat settings for various types of fabrics.

Minute Hard Particles Strengthen Alloys

CHICAGO (UP)— Microscopic particles of hard materials, some of them as small as a few millionths of an inch in diameter, are helping metallurgists solve the problems posed by higher and faster flight of both planes and missiles.

The metallurgists, working at the Illinois Institute of Technology, spread the particles throughout alloys to form new high-strength materials which can bear excessive temperature and maintain their form.

It was explained that the particles act in the metals much like the pieces of gravel in asphalt pavement which keep the pavement from flowing under a hot sun.

OUT OUR WAY

Cowboy Dramas to Go Big On Fall Television Menu

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Television show popularity rating systems may have to switch from points to notches for the new home screen season. Notches on the six-shooters of the biggest collection of western heroes since the motion picture industry hit the box office jackpot with "The Great Train Robbery."

From every direction boss opera stars are headed for the big fall 1957 TV roundup. "Home on the Range" is TV's new theme song with NBC now meaning "Nothing but Cowboys." At least NBC is out in front in this department. Whether it's a boom or bust depends on audience reaction to six-gallon hats and girls in sunbonnets.

THE HIGH-RATED "adult western," "Gunsmoke," set the pace in the world of purple hills and boots and saddles and now it's a whole sale western riot with NBC alone introducing six new western shows this fall.

"Wagon Train," featuring Ward Bond as Wagonmaster Seth Adams, is one slated for a Sept. 11 premiere. Bob Horton will be scouting injuns for Bond but the special "gimmick" of "Wagon Train" is a behind-the-scenes scout signing up big-name stars for the show.

Ernest Borgnine, Michael Rennie and Shelley Winters are the stars of the first three films. Other names you hear being mentioned for the show are Bette Davis, Jimmy Stewart, Greer Garson, Ray Milland, Barbara Stanwyck and Lloyd Nolan.

"THE RESTLESS GUN," starring John Payne, debuts Sept. 23 with NBC's advance label of "a dramatic show which happens to be laid in the west." The show is "different," claims the network, "because Payne does not play a gun-slinger or a peace officer. He's a working cowboy who shoots at targets instead of people, and the plots will accent characterization of one of her wooden shoes."

Another oater, "Boots and Saddles," is based on "Adventures of the U. S. Fifth Cavalry Regiment." "Up, it looks like 'powder burns' will have to be added to the company insurance of NBC employees."

Too Much Klompen
HOLLAND, Mich. — (UP) — A Klompen dancer at Holland's annual tulip festival danced with such enthusiasm that she shattered one of her wooden shoes.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower Begin Rhode Island Vacation

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower landed at the Quonset Point Naval Air Station today to begin their long-delayed Rhode Island vacation.

Skies were overcast as the presidential plane, Columbine III, touched down at Quonset.

Rhode Island Gov. Dennis J. Roberts led a welcoming party of medal-bedecked naval officers.

Following the brief reception, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower boarded the presidential cabin cruiser for the 50-minute cruise across Narragansett Bay to this resort city.

New England restraint gave an air of calm to Newport as it awaited its No. 1 vacationer.

But there was an undercurrent of excitement caused by two months of waiting since the announcement that the President would vacation here.

Mrs. Eisenhower, still convalescing from her recent operation, will disembark at the summer White House on Coaster's Harbor Island. The President will continue to Government Landing and join a motorcade for the short drive to the old Colony House at Washington Square in the heart of the city.

There, on a platform beneath the balcony where George Washington welcomed Rochambeau and his 7,000-man French expeditionary force aiding in the revolution, dignitaries will welcome the President to Newport.

After the brief ceremony, the President will be driven to Coaster's Harbor Island, a one-time pauper's asylum now occupied by headquarters of the mammoth Newport Naval Base and the Naval War College.

At the base, Eisenhower will be "piped aboard" through eight side boys in a colorful, traditional naval ceremony.

Weather permitting, the President is expected to test the tough Newport Country Club course for the first time this afternoon.

Lions Sponsor 'Laff-O-Rama' on Sept. 11 and 12

Wednesday has been declared "Circus Nite" by the Lions club of Harrisburg in honor of the big spectacle, "Laff-O-Rama," which it is sponsoring.

Immediately after a special meeting of the club, members will take part in this "kick-off" plan to deliver circus tickets for this big two hour community entertainment, which will be presented in the arena of Bonnell gym next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11-12, for the benefit of the new picnic shelter at the township park.

Members of the Harrisburg Lions club have pledged to deliver tickets to everyone in a specified area. So residents of Harrisburg are urged to stay at home, except a Lions club member to call on them and have their ticket money ready. Certainly there is something new under the sun and "Laff-O-Rama" is it.

By purchasing a ticket you will be contributing to a worthwhile cause in the new picnic shelter at Harrisburg township park.

Negro ministers—tried to break the color line.

The troops were first called out Monday by Governor Faubus, who ordered them to prevent desegregation of Central High because it might set off a riot between heavily armed whites and Negroes. The troops were armed with tear gas, clubs, pistols and rifles and equipped with half-tracks.

No Negroes tried to register Tuesday, when the school opened. But Tuesday night, U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies ordered the school desegregated at once. He said he would accept Faubus' explanation that the troops were at the school to prevent violence.

Orderly at Sturgis, Ky. In Sturgis, Ky., 17 Negro pupils who enrolled at the local high school Tuesday under protection of a Federal Court order returned to classes today. A small crowd gathered as the Negroes filed into the school but it was orderly except for a few shots.

"I think we might have it heat now," said Maj. Gen. J. B. Williams, the Kentucky state adjutant general.

School integration was accomplished today amid jeers and cat calls in North Carolina's largest city—Charlotte. The noise became so intense that school officials ordered "outsiders" to leave the grounds of Charlotte's Harding High School.

Actress Maureen O'Hara; Singer Dorothy Dandridge Deny Stories by Confidential

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Scandal-smearing movie stars today pleaded for a chance to follow actress Maureen O'Hara and singer Dorothy Dandridge in denying on the witness stand spicy tidbits printed about them in Confidential magazine.

The prosecution Tuesday turned the Confidential criminal libel trial into a stellar attraction by putting Irish-tempered Miss O'Hara and Miss Dandridge, a Negro stage-screen star, on the witness stand.

B55 Explodes 6 Miles in Air; Crew Parachutes

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A B55 jet making a simulated bombing run exploded six miles up Tuesday night and its three crewmen ejected themselves into the midst of a driving hailstorm.

All three reached ground alive, but an Air Force spokesman said their faces looked as if they had been "plastered with buckshot" in the hail. All were injured.

The $2,700,000 plane, from Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., crashed and burned, setting fire to a nearby oil tank south of Houston. The fire was rapidly extinguished.

The pilot, 1st Lt. David E. Moore, Dekalb, Ill., suffered a broken leg; the gunner, Sgt. Robert J. Hewlen, Apple Springs, N. Y., a broken arm, and Capt. Arthur J. Manzo (address unavailable), suffered head injuries when the No. 2 engine exploded.

All were badly bruised and cut by the hail. Hewlen said after passing through the hail, they floated into a rainstorm. "It was cold as hell up there," he said, when they bailed out.

The Air Force said it was about 15 degrees below zero at 30,000 feet, where the crew parachuted. All were wearing light flight clothing.

CHURCH OF GOD REVIVAL CONTINUES THROUGH SUNDAY

The revival at the Church of God on South Land street, Harrisburg, which started Saturday, will continue through Sunday. The meetings are held at the church each evening at 7:30 with Rev. F. W. Goff preaching. Rev. C. G. Friedley, pastor of the church, reports three new members were added to the church last week.

Ike Permits Girl To Keep Prize Winning Calf

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the story of a little girl named Sharon Kay Stuffer, a calf named Pearl and a President named Eisenhower.

Sharon Kay — a nine-year-old citizen of Walkersville, Md. — raised Pearl and entered her in the Maryland State Fair at Timonium. Pearl won a $1,000 prize.

But Sharon Kay was sad. The contest rules called for sending the prize-winning calf as a gift to the President.

Sharon Kay burst into tears at the thought of never seeing Pearl again. However, after a family conference, the Stuffers decided to give Pearl to Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin for shipment to the Eisenhower farm.

Sharon Kay was promised a Tennessee walking horse to take Pearl's place.

The White House heard about the gift and the tears Tuesday. Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty conferred with the President. Then Hagerty announced that the President "would never want to deprive a youngster of a calf she had raised."

"If the reports were he would not accept the Hagerty said.

Fruit Shipper Complains of Freight Rates

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A southern Illinois fruit and vegetable shipper today charged the Railway Express Agency with "rank discrimination" on its carload freight rates to Chicago.

The charge was made by D. W. Davies, Anna, in a complaint filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission here.

Davies was identified as a grower and shipper of various fruits and vegetables with principal offices at Anna. He charged the Railway Express Agency rates via the Illinois Central Railroad to Chicago are "in violation of the public utility act."

Spahn Hurls 41st Shutout As Braves Blank Cubs, 8-0; Cardinals Shell Reds, 14-4

By United Press
Southpaw Warren Spahn, with another National League record under his belt, is shaping up more and more as the logical choice to pitch the opening World Series game for the Milwaukee Braves. The 36-year-old Spahn, who began his major league career 15 years ago, under Casey Stengel—the man he probably will be trying to beat a month from now—registered his 41st shutout by blanking the Chicago Cubs, 8-0, on six hits Tuesday.

That gave Spahn the league record for total lifetime shutouts by a left handed pitcher. It also gave him 18 victories for the season and made him a good bet to embellish another N. L. mark he holds. He is the only southpaw in the history of the circuit who has won 20 games in seven different seasons and now it looks as if he is going to make it eight.

The Braves thereby maintained their comfortable 8 1-2 game lead over the second place Cardinals, who crushed the Redlegs, 14-4. The Phillies defeated the Dodgers, 3-2, in 12 innings and the Giants beat the Pirates, 6-5 in 12 innings.

Yanks Widen Gap
Over in the American League, the Yankees increased their lead to 5 1-2 games with a 2-0 triumph over the Orioles, while the Tigers scored an 11-inning 3-2 victory over the White Sox in the only other game scheduled.

The Cards shelled Joe Nuxhall for four runs in the first inning and Raul Sanchez for four more in the second as they rapped out 16 hits, including a homer by Del Ennis. Hal Smith led the onslaught by driving in four runs while Ennis and pitcher Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell each drove in three.

Ex-Dodger Chico Fernandez tripled in the 12th inning and scored the winning run for the Phillies on Willie Jones' sacrifice fly. Don Drysdale of the Dodgers nursed a 2-0 lead until Harry Anderson tied the score with a two-run homer in the ninth.

Dick Farrell, who relieved starter Jack Sanford in the eighth and pitched four hitless innings before retiring for a pinch hitter, was credited with his seventh win. O'Connell Sparks Giants

The Giants won their 12-inning game from the Pirates when Ray Jablonski's sacrifice fly brought in Danny O'Connell. Valmy Thomas sent the game into extra innings with a homer in the ninth. Prior to that, Willie Mays and O'Connell had walloped two-run homers. Stu Miller was the winner and Bob Smith the loser.

Sal Maglie made his first appearance for the Yankees in helping them nail down their victory against the Orioles. The winner was Tom Sturdivant but he yielded to Maglie in the ninth after George Kell opened with his third single of the game. Maglie gave up one more hit but retired the last three batters.

Mickey Mantle went hitless in four times up, dropping to .370, six points behind Ted Williams.

Al Kaline blasted his 21st home run in the 11th inning off Gerry Staley to sink the White Sox. Walt Droppo put Chicago ahead with a homer in the ninth but Detroit tied the score in the bottom of the frame on a walk, a sacrifice and Ray Boone's pinch single.

Permits Still Available for Deer Hunters

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Conservation Department today announced drawings have been held for deer permits in Ogle and Winnebago counties for Illinois' first deer season since 1900.

The two counties were the only ones where a drawing was necessary, since more permits were available than applicants in the remaining 31 counties where the season will be open Nov. 1-3.

Gov. Stratton, assigned the task of drawing the first name for Ogle county, reached into a box and pulled out the name of Raymond E. Shores, Byron. Shores will get one of the 800 permits for Ogle county.

Conservation Director Glen D. Palmer said the department will continue to accept applications for the deer hunting permits in the remaining counties as long as the county quotas remain unfilled.

Winnebago county also has been assigned a quota of 800 permits for the brief season.

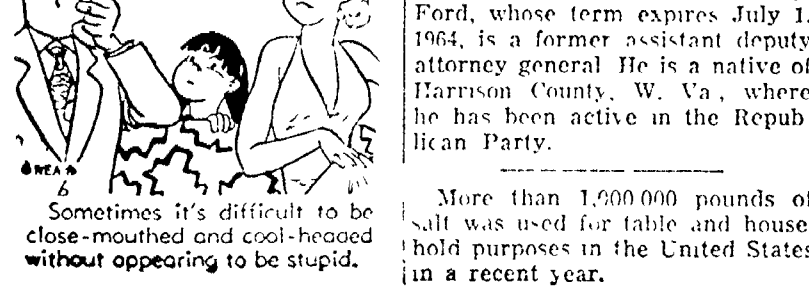

Bow and arrow hunters will be permitted to hunt in any of the open counties in the open bow and arrow deer season, Oct. 1-15.

Palmer cautioned farmers and other landowners and tenants that they must have a permit even to hunt on their own land, although the permit may be obtained with out charge.

The other hunters will be required to pay a $5 fee for their deer license for the three-day season.

The 33 counties where the open season has been scheduled are in the extreme northwestern, west central and southern sections of Illinois.

Natches, Mississippi, founded in 1716, is the oldest city on the Mississippi River.

World Speed Boat Races at Mt. Carmel Saturday

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. — The banks of the historic Wabash river will soon be resounding to the pitch of high-speed motors as drivers from all over the United States arrive here to participate in the World Championship Outboard Hydroplane Speed Boat races to be held Saturday, Sept. 7, and Sunday, Sept. 8.

On Saturday the drivers' meeting will start at 8:00 a. m. and the first qualifying race will begin at 9:30 a. m. The championship races start at 2:00 p. m. Sunday's drivers' meeting starts at 11:00 a. m. and the first championship race at 1:30 p. m. (CST). For those interested, there will be speed trials starting at daylight Monday, Sept. 9.

The races, which are again sponsored by the Wabash Valley Boat Club as they were two years ago, attracted the best drivers and boats that race in this outboard professional division with over 317 entries being present and are run in compliance with National Outboard Association regulations.

Already entries are beginning to arrive with drivers coming from such far away places as California, Texas, Florida, Tennessee and Iowa. This final big show of the professional outboard racing is considered by many to be what the "500" is to auto racing and the Kentucky Derby is to horse racing. It was attended by between ten and twelve thousand sports fans when this event was held there in 1955.

The area provided for the racing fans is on a high bank overlooking the whole race course and is well shaded by lofty trees. Parking facilities are more than adequate and are adjacent to the spectator area.

Ford Sworn In

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frederick W. Ford was sworn in Thursday as one of seven Federal Communications commissioners, to replace George C. Of 20 Players

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs today were in their second week of practice, getting ready for their opening football tilt at Murphysboro the night of Friday, Sept. 13.

Head Coach Lawrence Calufetti has twelve lettermen back but stated today that "between now and Sept. 13 anybody can win a berth on the team; because a boy has a letter doesn't mean he has a post sewed up."

Calufetti said he believed he had about 20 boys he could pretty well count on.

He has two veteran ends in Bill Yates and Ira (Bud) Logan and another letterman, Don Pickford, who was a guard and tackle last year, is doing a good job in being transformed into an end.

Two lettermen tackles are Jack Simpson and Ronnie Maynard; lettermen guards are Gary Aldridge and Bill Endsley; letterman center is Allen Buchanan; lettermen halfbacks are Don Biggs and Mickey Stone; letterman fullback is Ed Price and Ray Hassett, who lettered at tackle last year, is being groomed for the No. 1 quarterback post.

Calufetti said there were a number of promising juniors up from last year's Bull Pup team, and these included:

Harold Beal and A. J. Bryant, tackles; Darrell Biggs, center; Gary Leverett, guard; Wendell Fischer, who has played end and

Furlong, fullback; Joe Wathen end; David Dalton, Darrell Duke and Carl Fleming, halfbacks; and Joe Ford, quarterback Henry Winters, senior guard, also may be of help this year.

The boys practiced twice a day all last week, once on Labor Day and twice Tuesday, with Chester Caddas assisting Calufetti with the varsity, Jim Beers handling the Bull Pups and Gene Bland the freshmen.

The varsity schedule:

Sept. 13, at Murphysboro; Sept. 20, Marion here; Sept. 27, at Eldorado; Oct. 4, Mt. Vernon here; Oct. 11, at Centralia; Oct. 18, Herrin here; Oct. 25 (Homecoming) Carbondale here; Nov. 1, West Frankfort here; Nov. 9, at Benton.

There will be a freshman-sophomore game on Monday evening following each Friday night varsity tilt.

Memberships of Religious Faiths At Record Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—The memberships of the nation's major religious faiths rose to record highs last year, the National Council of Churches reported Monday.

Combined church and synagogue membership totaled 103,224,954, an increase of more than three million over the previous year, according to figures in the council's Yearbook of American Churches.

The council, which embraces 30 church bodies, said its figures indicate that 82 out of every 100 Americans are members of a church or synagogue. This compares with only 20 out of every 100 a century ago, the council said.

The council's figures show there are now 60,148,980 Protestants, a gain of 1,700,000; 34,563,851 Roman Catholics, an increase of 1,167,204; 5,500,000 Jews, the same figure as reported in 1955; and 2,598,055 Eastern Orthodox communicants, a gain of 212,000.

Times have changed since Ross G. Putnam and Miss Kate E. Milligan, a Wabash county school teacher, were married in the country home of the bride's mother, on a Sunday afternoon, Sept. 1, 1907. Because it was a Labor Day week end, and there was a celebration in Harrisburg, their ride on the Big Four train from Mt. Carmel to Harrisburg, on that Labor Day Monday, was filled with excitement as passengers got on the train at every stop and rode with them to Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam were reared in the same community and attended the same church. When Mr. Putnam finished his military service, and his training at the St. Louis school for watchmaker's, he began working for the W. A. Grant jewelry store on the south side of the Harrisburg square. He brought his bride to Harrisburg and they made their first home here. In 1908, the young Putnam's moved to Eldorado, opened their own jewelry store and operated it until Mr. Putnam's retirement, 15 years ago. Their home is at 1338 Locust street, Eldorado.

Their three children grew up and are Mrs. L. O. (Miriam) Wright, Lawrenceville, William H. Putnam, Eldorado, and Miss Katherine Putnam, medical technician in New York. There are now five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter, Charlotte Sue Gettner, of Paris, Ill.

Mr. Putnam is interested in farming and since his retirement, spends some time on his small farm in Gallatin county, and the 40 acres in Lawrence county, which his great grandfather bought in 1818 and which has been in the family since that time. This last summer Mr. Putnam has refinished a chest, brought over by the Milligan family at about that time. Great grandfather Milligan was from Scotland but his wife was a Corrie and came from England. The Putnam family came from England about 1840 and in 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Putnam visited in England and Scotland and found families by the same names.

Mrs. Putnam gives much of her time in the W.C.T.U. work and

The wedding in 1907 was in the home of the bride's mother, and last Sunday the 50th anniversary of the wedding was celebrated in the home of their son, William H. Putnam, at Benton and 4th streets, Eldorado.

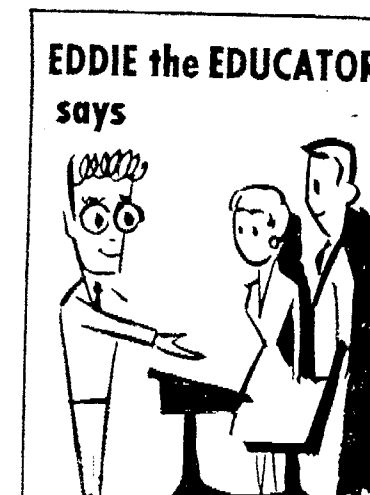

Mr. and Mrs. William Putnam had decorated their home with gold colored flowers, Miss Katherine brought orchids from New Jersey for corsages and two leis were sent from Honolulu and placed around the punch bowl for table decorations. The cake, a huge tiered wedding cake, bore the golden numerals, 50, and wedding bells and flowers on the top, with sugar roses and decorations including wedding rings interlocked on the lower tiers.

Miss Norma Putnam, accompanied at the piano by Miss Rebecca Wettaw, sang "Always."

Five guests attended both of the celebrations. They were Mrs. Essie Yonaka, Mrs. Clara Putnam, Mrs. Beulah Wagner, Mrs. Lucille Kipp and Mrs. Maude Milligan.

Out of town guests who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Putnam and daughters, Marilyn and Norma, Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner, Bridgeport; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin V. Kipp, and Mrs. Clara Putnam, Lawrenceville; Mrs. Maude Milligan and son, Harold, Vienna; Mrs. Layton Aldridge, Mrs. Bee Holland, Mrs. Roy Adams, Mrs. Capitola N. Melton, Miss Maud Barter, Miss Mabel Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, Miss Sue Melton and Miss Betty Swan, Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Putnam, Lancaster; Dr. and Mrs. John Choisser, Florida state; Miss Katherine Putnam, New York and Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Wright and daughter, Jane, Lawrenceville.

A-Blast Knocks Helmets Off Paratroopers

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., 4p.—Scientists today studied results of an atomic blast which knocked the helmets off unsheltered paratroopers stationed 2 3/4 miles from ground zero at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

More than 100 soldiers of the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N. C., Monday lay face down as the blast, called Galileo, was fired from a 500-foot tower. The human "nerve survival" experiment marked the first time that American soldiers were placed so close to ground zero without the protection of trenches or concrete shelters.

Court of Honor Held By Boy Scout Troop 13

Boy Scout Troop 13, sponsored by the First Christian church, held a Court of Honor at the church Thursday evening.

Ten Scouts received their Tenderfoot badges and Boy Scout camp attendance awards and three Cubs advanced to the Boy Scouts.

After the Boy Scouts were presented with their Tenderfoot badges, their mothers were introduced as each Scout gave his mother a Scout lapel pin.

As the Cubs were accepted into the Boy Scouts the Cub neckerchiefs were presented to their mothers and the former Cubs were given Scout neckerchiefs and a Boy Scout handbook.

Advancing to the Tenderfoot rank were Jim Turner, Roy Turner, Bobby Potts, Steve Collins, Ronald McDermott, Nelson Collins, Larry Bowers, Jimmy Peak, Charles De Giacinto and Steve Tucker. Advancing to the Scouts were David Deputy, Bill Brackney and Victor Hall.

The program opened with the presentation of the Colors and Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Rev. Glenn Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian church, introduced State Senator Glen O. Jones, who spoke to the boys, using the Scout Oath as the basis for his remarks.

Senator Jones stated he had "no fear for the well being of the future as long as there are boys who live up to the Scout Oath."

Following the program refreshments were served.

10,000 tons of TNT, was the 18th in the current series. The Atomic Energy Commission set the next test for Friday.

The AEC said the troops weathered the blast like "old veterans of nuclear warfare." Following the detonation, the troops leaped into action and ran through a short obstacle course carrying full combat gear.

Scientists said that the shock wave "blew" the helmets off some of the troops. However, they said no casualties were reported.

Graham Relaxes After Crusade; Plans New Evangelistic Battles

Editor's Note: The success of Billy Graham's New York crusade raises the question: Whither now? The following report on Graham's plans was written by the only newsman who covered the Billy Graham crusade from its beginning to the end.

By ALBIN KREBS

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham is a young man of unusual vitality who doesn't believe in resting on the record of past triumphs.

Only Sunday night he preached the farewell sermon of a 16-week "Crusade to Save New York" that turned out to be the most successful revival of his 10-year career. He left immediately for his home in Montreat, N. C., confident his crusade had wrought great changes in the spiritual life of the city and that "New York will never be the same again."

Today he began a three-week rest-and-meditation period designed not only to put back on his lanky frame 20 pounds lost during the strenuous New York crusade

(but also to gird him spiritually for future evangelistic battles).

Graham's job in New York is not yet done. He returns here Sept. 24 to breakfast with ministers of the area, who are planning a follow-up phase of the New York crusade.

This phase is a program of "visitation evangelism" in which Protestant ministers and thousands of laymen will ring the doorbells of their fellow New Yorkers to try to persuade them to become active church members.

Plans More Crusades

The program will be climaxed with a great closing rally on Oct. 27—Reformation Sunday—in the Polo Grounds, home of the New York Giants baseball team. Graham will return to New York for the rally.

Graham and his staff are already preparing for a six-week Caribbean tour that will take them to rival meetings in nine countries, beginning in mid-January.

He will preach a six-weeks crusade in San Francisco's Cow Palace beginning April 27, 1958, and another in his home town of Charlotte, N. C., beginning Sept. 28, 1958.

The evangelist also expects big things in his personal life. He told the United Press before he left New York, but asked that it not be mentioned until today, that he and his wife, Ruth, expect their fifth child in the spring.

Of his New York crusade, Graham said in an interview that "all our objectives have been more than surpassed." He said that "to see Madison Square Garden filled night after night in the worst audience period of the year summer has astounded the critics, the cynics, the experts and even me."

"Long after we're gone," Graham said, "I think the tremendous influence of the crusade will continue and be more and more in evidence."

"The tremendous impact the crusade has made on New York and in many other parts of the country can only be attributed to the work of the spirit of God. Mine is a feeling of thanksgiving and humility that God has called us to have a small part in the spiritual life of New York."

Attendance Records Broken

Graham is the first to point out that no one can accurately say now just how hard his crusade hit New York. But he can point to some impressive figures to argue his crusade has dented, if not "cracked" New York.

"Decisions for Christ" recorded during the crusade totaled 56,787, a modern evangelistic record.

A Yankee Stadium meeting broke all attendance records (100,000) in the stadium's history and in Graham's Madison Square Garden meetings, he not only broke all attendance records but also became the longest running attraction in the Garden's 30-year history.

The Times Square "Cross roads of the world rally" Sunday night was marred only by a disagreement between Graham's staff and the police department over estimated attendance.

The police set figures at 75,000 persons, Graham's staff at more than 120,000. The eight blocks between Times Square and Herald Square appeared to be jammed with spectators and the crowd over flowed into side streets.

"I doubt that anyone will ever know exactly how many were present," Graham said after the rally. "but I am certain that it was the largest crowd that it has been my privilege to address."

In London's Wembley Stadium, in 1954, Graham addressed 120,000 persons.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.

(Written for NEA Service)

SATAN, as the opponent of God, is a strange adversary. In his bidding for the interests of man he uses many talents. He is a super salesman who offers tempting items of no value at high prices and on terms which appear attractive. He buys to his own advantage, and trades so shrewdly that every deal is crooked. He makes his dishonest merchandising appear intriguing and worth his price.

Temptation catches us off guard. We occasionally become enmeshed in affairs which are devastating to our better selves. It is so easy to make a thoughtless decision. We must then pay a price to gain back our freedom from his bondage.

We must walk near to God if we wish to avoid the byways and detours which lead to wrong doing. God's way must be sought by all of us.

The Illinois Institute of Technology, (Chicago) formed by the merger of Armour Tech and Lewis Institute, now claims the largest engineering enrollment in the country.
